Men Are Religious
Ants Are Foolish—and Men
Kidnaping and Torture
The Poor Indians

—BY ARTHUR BRISBANE

"EVERY sweet has its sour; every evil its good."

Emerson said it. British tories believe it. The attack on religion in Russia has created intense feeling in Britain. If Premier MacDonald's Labor government refuses to break off relations with Russia it will probably be driven from power.

Men and nations, with their radios, movies and other interesting things, may come to lose interest in religion, but even an attack as Russia makes on well-established beliefs shows how religion retains its hold on the human race.

DR. DITMARS, who studies animals from elephant and whale to ant and microbe, will broadcast, by greatly magnifying sound, noises made by bees in their colonies working, swarming, etc.

Strangest in insect life: Among butterflies there are 20 males for every female. This will interest women, for the butterfly is one of the noisiest of insects. The males make all that noise.

"Ants," says Dr. Ditmars, "sometimes make fools of themselves."

Tiny mites and blind, little defenseless beetles pat the ants with their fee and then the ants pat them.

Not so different from human beings that have money. Sycophants flatter them, "pet them" with compliments, then they feed the sycophants and sometimes let them marry their daughters.

CHICAGO police hold seven men and one lady accused of conspiring to kidnap citizens, torturing them to extort money.

Theodore Kopellman, head of an insurance company, identified the kidnapers. The lady, his former wife, had "tipped" the kidnapers that if they got him "he would be easy."

He obeyed orders and paid when threatened with red-hot irons.

Police investigators attribute six other "torture-kidnaping" cases to the same gang, and the prosecuting attorney says he will have them all sent to the electric chair. Death is the punishment for kidnaping in Illinois.

That seems a little severe, and capital punishment is barbarous.

Kidnaping, with torture, is also barbarous.

FROM Devil's Lake, N. D., comes the sad story of Sioux Indians that drank anti-freeze mixture for the sake of its alcohol.

It was the wrong kind.

Jerome Quehouse, Mike Goodhouse and two other Indians are dead three more expected to die. They drank "anti-freeze" at a dance, which adds a touch of sadness.

CAPT. RICKENBACKER talks about flying with authority. In the war he flew after many German planes, and they did no more flying after that.

General Motors most intelligently has secured the co-operation of Capt. Rickenbacker in its flying enterprises.

He says that within 10 years there will be regular air travel from the Atlantic to the Pacific in 10 hours. Slow rail service will be as much out of date as the stage coach is now.

And that is no exaggeration.

The motto of 1940 will be: "Get there in a hurry by air, or see every foot of the way at your leisure by motor."

Flying offers a new field and a wide sky to courageous young women.

Elinor Smith, a small young woman with a big heart, went up in her aeroplane more than 30,000 feet. Fainting at that altitude, she fell with her plane several thousand feet. Then she came to and landed safely, having set a new record. She went one mile higher than any woman had ever been.

SOMEBODY took Mrs. A. K. W. Gibbons' husband. She asked for $1,000,000 damages, the jury gave her $500,000.

Our prosperity problem would be solved if a million other wives could do as well. And many of them could congratulate themselves on making an excellent bargain.

Few second-hand husbands are worth $500,000.

THE orthodox (Russian) church of Jugoslavia proposes to make a saint of Czar Nicholas, murdered by order of the bolshevik government.

Making him a saint will perhaps increase his standing in heaven, where a saint presumably takes precedence, even over a czar.

But canonizing the late Russian czar will not help the Russian church in its troubles with the Russian government.

Grand Jury To Consider Child Whipping Case

By The Associated Press

ELYRIA, March 11—The Lorain county grand jury next month will take up the case of Mrs. Myrta Bradley, New Oberlin district school teacher charged with assault and battery on a pupil.

Mrs. Bradley was scheduled to appear for a hearing in justice of the peace court today, but this was abandoned when she agreed to waive preliminary hearing and be bound over to the grand jury.

The teacher is alleged to have whipped Mary Margaret Gerhardinger, nine, with a large wooden paddle.

FIRE FIGHTERS BATTLE BLAZE AT OHIO MINE

Flames Continue Stubbornly After Disaster Is Narrowly Averted

95 MEN ESCAPE ALIVE

Two Die When Trapped in Underground Tunnels Near Amsterdam, O.

By The Associated Press

STEUBENVILLE, O., March 11—Cheated of all but two victims among the 97 men trapped in smoke-filled tunnels, flames lapped stubbornly away today in the depths of the Wolf run mine of the Warner collieries near Amsterdam.

Sparks from the electric trolley pole on a train started a blaze which, for hours threatened a major mine disaster yesterday afternoon. Heroic rescue squads, picking their way through tongues of flames springing from timbers and coal brought every man but two safely to the surface.

The body of Kuba Pewansky is believed buried under a fall of slate and rock that hampered early efforts to accomplish a rescue and a hundred men today were driving through these drifts seeking to reach the victim. He was not married.

Suffocation Victim

The other victim was Paul Borkowski, 65, who died of suffocation before he could be brought to the surface.

Another miner, George Allman, was severely burned. Two rescuers, Sidney Wales and Arnold Horton, collapsed from exhaustion after tramping for miles to search for workmen.

Fire fighters fought through the night to check the spread of the flames and this morning new volunteers aided in pouring tons of concrete into the shaft to seal up the burning area with the view of saving the mine from total destruction.

Officials say it may remain sealed for 60 to 90 days. Coroner A. L. Bell of Jefferson county said today that the state and county officials were convinced that the fire was an unavoidable accident and that the investigation will not be prolonged.

The 95 others cut off by the blaze were brought out unharmed, although 70 of them owed their lives to the desperate work of the Steubenville fire department and mine rescue squads. About a dozen of them were unconscious, when carried to the surface, but most of them were able to walk to their nearby homes after they had been reviewed. Company officials said every man had been accounted for.

The fire broke out about 4,000 feet back from the main entrance yesterday afternoon from sparks from the short circuited trolley pole.

Sound Alarm

Fire men on the train, unable to stamp out the fast-spreading blaze, escaped through the main entrance and spread the alarm. Rescue squads

UNITED MINERS TO IGNORE FACTIONS

Mine Workers' Union Enters Second Day of Constitutional Convention

By The Associated Press

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., March 11—Ignoring action taken yesterday by factional elements of the United Mine Workers of America in a convention at Springfield, Ill., which declared vacant the office of International President John L. Lewis and which held that the union's constitution expired April 1, 1929, the thirty-first consecutive constitutional convention of the union peacefully entered the second day of the session today.

With annual reports of the three international officers disposed of, the convention engaged itself in the completion of preliminary detail work. Among matters on which discussion was expected were reports on last night's hearings on contested credential cases and the report of the credentials committee. Some indication of the policy the convention will pursue also was looked for.

The report of the credentials committee was awaited with interest as a means to determine the exact strength of the insurgents assembled in Illinois, and the degree to which the Illinois union is supporting the International convention. Information available yesterday was that 85 per cent of the Illinois miners were supporting the convention here, although the assertion on the floor yesterday by William J. Sneed of Herrin, Ill., that more Illinois delegates were expected led to predictions that some of those participating in the convention would come to Indianapolis today.

Wittenberg Celebrates 85th Anniversary

By The Associated Press

SPRINGFIELD, March 11—Wittenberg college celebrated its eighty-fifth anniversary with fitting exercises today at which Dr. Rees Edgar Tulloss, president, was a speaker. Dr. Paul H. Heisey was another speaker on the program.

After the ceremony at the college the faculty and student body went to the cemetery where the graves of former presidents of the college were decorated.

Girl Graduates at 15

Miss Juanita Kimmel One of Youngest To Finish Work at Harding

JUANITA KIMMEL

FOR the first time in three years a pupil is graduating from Harding High school at the age of 15. This year Miss Juanita Kimmel is carrying off this honor. In 1926 Frederick Smith was the youngest in his class, and in 1927, Lyle Holverstott was accorded this distinction.

Miss Kimmel completed the second and third grades at the State Street school from April to June of her first year of schooling in the city. Her first year was at a country school near Marion. It required exactly seven weeks for her to miss the third grade.

Got Early Start

One reason for her success in bringing her school work to a close at such an early age, is that she started in school when she was five years old.

Her schooling through the eighth grade was at the State Street school. The freshman year was at Central Junior High school and her high school course at Harding High.

Miss Kimmel is graduating in a college preparatory course that includes Virgil, American literature, American history and civics and higher mathematics. At the end of the first semester of this year she dropped typing from her schedule to give more time to her regular course.

In addition to carrying her schedule, Miss Kimmel is a mem-

TO DRAW NEW FRANCHISES

City Contracts for Electricity with C., D. & M. Expire

BOTH TO BE REDRAWN

Plan To Renew Franchises for Street Light and Domestic Current

The city of Marion, within the next few weeks, is expected to grant the C., D. & M. Electric Co. two franchises for furnishing electricity for street light and domestic purposes, officials indicated today.

Although the street lighting franchise held by the company expired on Jan. 30, city officials have taken no steps to grant a new franchise, other than consider a tentative franchise submitted to council by W. P. Moloney, president of the company.

It is expected that the provisions of the new franchise will not be worked out until officials begin work on another franchise for domestic electricity. The present domestic franchise of the company expires March 30, and according to present plans provisions of the two will be worked out together.

Both the franchise which expired Jan. 30, and the one to expire this month were drawn for a period of 10 years. Together with rate contracts, they provide in what manner and at what rates the company is to furnish electricity for street lighting and domestic purposes.

The recent popularity of "white way" street lights which were installed on Center st. last year, and which are slated for Main st. this year, may provide text for a new provision of the 1930 franchise for street lighting.

Rates for all future "white way" lights were agreed upon in the contract last year for the installation of Center st. lights.

Mansfield Man Slays Wife, Then Takes Own Life

MANSFIELD, O., March 11—Earl J. Cline, 47, and his wife, Elizabeth, 43, lie dead at their home here today in the wake of a dual tragedy, which police say was the result of a family quarrel.

Cline shot and killed his wife and then turned his gun on himself and ended his own life last night while the couple was walking along a street near the downtown section.

Young Plan Given 2nd Okay by German House

BERLIN, March 11 — The Young plan for reparations payment passed the second reading in the Reichstag today by a vote of 251 to 174. There were 26 abstainers.

The favorable vote on this reading had been anticipated. The final vote on the bill accepting the Young plan for Germany will take place tomorrow, after the third and final reading of the bill.

Sponsors of the bill believe that it will pass with a safe majority.

Along with this word from the White House today it was said that Sanford's successor probably would be named within a month.

BEFORE GRAND JURY

Charges Against Hannah and Conald Under Consideration

WOOSTER, March 11—Consideration of the cases of Charles Hannah and Earl Conald, held in connection with the mysterious disappearance of Melvin Horst, four-year-old Orville boy, was scheduled for the Wayne county grand jury here today.

Hannah and Conald were arrested several weeks ago. In statements obtained from the two men at the time, each accused the other of having killed the Horst lad when he disappeared from his home more than a years ago. Later, the men retracted their statements. Hannah has made several "confessions" in connection with the case.

RADIO FANS HEAR BYRD SPEAK TODAY

Marion Residents Listen in on Conversation Between New York, New Zealand

Admirl Richard Byrd of Antarctic expedition fame was heard by numerous Marion radio fans at 7:30 this morning when all stations signed off momentarily in order that the explorer might have the air to himself.

Substance of the radio conversation carried on between Byrd and friends in New York concerned the explorer's birthday, which is Wednesday.

From more than 10,000 miles away Admiral Byrd greeted America. He spoke from Dunedin, New Zealand. His first stop on his homeward journey from the South Polar regions.

The explorers' hello to America was in response to a welcome back to civilization by Adolph S. Ochs, publisher of the New York Times. His replies were barely distinguishable in a barrage of static and other forms of interference.

It was Wednesday morning in Dunedin, shortly after 12:30 o'clock when Byrd responded to Mr. Ochs' greetings. At the receiving end in the United States, it was 7:30 Tuesday morning.

The voice of Admiral Byrd was brought to the United States over the most elaborate hookup of radio circuits ever attempted for rebroadcasting. Short wave channels, wire and broadcast links made possible this epochal two-way conversation which was retransmitted over the National Broadcasting chain extending to the Pacific coast.

DAVIS PLANS TO RUN FOR GRUNDY'S POST

Will Seek Senatorial Nomination In Pennsylvania Primaries

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, March 11—James J. Davis, secretary of labor, said today that he would make formal announcement of his candidacy for the Republican senatorial nomination in Pennsylvania Saturday in Pittsburgh.

He will oppose Joseph R. Grundy, who was appointed to William S. Vare's seat by Governor Fisher, when the senate rejected the Philadelphia organization leader.

VARE THROWS SUPPORT TO DAVIS

By The Associated Press

PHILADELPHIA, March 11—William S. Vare today announced his withdrawal as a candidate for the United States senate and asked his friends to support Secretary of Labor James J. Davis for the nomination.

The Philadelphia Republican organization leader also asked his friends to support Francis Brown, of Philadelphia, former attorney general of Pennsylvania, as a candidate for governor.

Mr. Vare announced his withdrawal shortly before noon, as he was boarding a train for Florida.

HIGHEST HONORS OF NATION MARK TAFT FUNERAL RITES

HOLD COFAGNO ON MANN ACT

Former Marion Man Arrested in Spokane, Wash., by Federal Officers

TO BE RETURNED

Is Alleged To Have Taken 14-Year-Old Girl from Home Last July

Joe Cofagno, 35, formerly of 434 Uncapher av., is under arrest at Spokane, Wash., on Mann act charges, federal authorities at Spokane reported today.

Cofagno is charged with taking Miss Marguerite Cockrell, 14, from Dola to Portland, Ore., last July, and has been sought by county and federal officers since that time.

Cofagno will probably be brought to Toledo this week to stand trial in Federal court on Mann act charges, local officers indicated today. He was using the alias name of Tony Romi, when arrested in Washington, according to press dispatches today.

Pair Disappears

Nothing was heard from the pair, which left this state last July 5, until Miss Cockrell returned to her home here late last September. She is now at her home on Latourette st., according to local juvenile authorities.

Although but meager information could be obtained from her, local authorities have learned that Cofagno took the girl to the western state immediately after he took her from her home at Dola, near Lima. They apparently remained in Washington and Oregon until last September, when for an unknown reason, Miss Cockrell returned to this city alone.

Cofagno had taken his wife to work at the Marion Tobacco Co., here a few hours before he packed his clothes, drove to Dola, and picked up Miss Cockrell. The Cockrell family, although living at 1000 West Center st., had been staying at a house near Dola—to—work.

Wife Brings Charges

Cofagno has been charged with desertion and non-support by his wife, Mrs. Anna Cofagno, but these charges will probably be dropped if Cofagno is convicted in federal court.

While in this city, Cofagno lived at 434 Uncapher av., and was employed at the Alloy Cast Steel Co. He has often expressed his intention of returning to Washington, where he formerly lived, officials said.

Violation of the Mann act is punishable by a penitentiary sentence.

COURT WILL SPEED CHOOSING OF JURY

Expect To Complete Panel for Schrader Murder Trial Today

By The Associated Press

NEW CASTLE, Pa., March 11—A jury by nightfall was the goal of both sides today in the second day of the murder trial of Mrs. Irene Schrader, former Benwood, W. Va., waitress, although only four jurors had been tentatively seated at the opening of court.

Counsel for Mrs. Schrader, who is charged with slaying Corporal Brady Paul, state highway patrolman, worked late last night on defense details despite a tedious day in court.

District Attorney John S. Powers said today he was undecided whether he would have the jury visit the spot on the highway near New Castle where Paul was killed December 27 while he and a companion were questioning two men and a woman in an automobile regarding a holdup. Powers said engineers had prepared extensive maps of the site to be used at the trial.

Attorney Thomas W. Dickey said the defense will not require the jury to visit the spot.

PLEADS NOT GUILTY

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, March 11—Frank Smith, Blenheim, Ont., was held in jail today in default of $75,000 bond set when he pleaded not guilty yesterday to charges of violating the tariff laws. Smith was one of the two men captured aboard the armored tug Sambo G, carrying $76,800 worth of Canadian liquor and ale, when it was captured by coast guardsmen between here and Lorain last week. The other man, Fred Hentrie, is still in a Lorain hospital suffering from wounds received when guardsmen fired on the tug.

CONFLICT DEVELOPS IN HAITIAN PROGRAM

Hoover Commission Considers Issuing Ultimatum to President Borno

By The Associated Press

CAPE HAITIEN, Haiti, March 11—Open conflict developed today between the Hoover commission investigating conditions in Haiti and Louis Borno, president of the island republic.

The Hoover commission, which is here in course of a tour of the nation, telephoned Port-Au-Prince that President Borno must keep his promise given Sunday to permit selection of a provisional government which would act until a constitutional government could be placed in power.

President Borno's answer, he telephoned here, was that he was still president of the country and would do as he pleased.

The commission today was considering issuance of an ultimatum to Borno in which he would be informed that he must take all the consequences politically and personally if he refused to adhere to the arrangement agreed upon Sunday.

This ultimatum, if issued, would virtually withdraw all protection from him, and he might then be in danger of his life, so intense is public meeting.

M. Borno told prefects of all districts that the council of state, a body of personal appointees would elect the next president.

W. Cameron Forbes, chairman of the commission, and Henry P. Fletcher immediately telephoned Brigadier General John H. Russell, American high commissioner, asking that a new message be sent to the prefects informing them of the commission's plan for a provisional government, in accordance with arrangements agreed upon over the week-end.

SATURDAY LAST DAY FOR TAX RETURNS

Representatives of Internal Revenue Department Here To Aid Taxpayers

Saturday at midnight is the deadline for filing income tax returns, internal revenue department representatives who are here to assist those filing returns pointed out today.

Office hours are being observed from 8 a. m. to 8 p. m. daily by the two men in charge, M. C. Grant and Chance W. Beech. Grant arrived last week and Beech began his duties yesterday. Both are from the Columbus office of the internal revenue department.

The office, which is being maintained in the law library at the rear of the common pleas court in the county courthouse, will be open until midnight on Saturday.

No charge is made by the men for their aid in filing returns, which must be turned in by all single men and women making $1,500 or more yearly, and by married persons making $3,500 or more each year.

BURIAL MADE IN ARLINGTON

Impressive Tribute Paid Great Ohioan in Ceremonies at Washington

HAS MILITARY ESCORT

All Government Activities Suspended as Throngs Assemble at Capital

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, March 11—William Howard Taft was committed to his maker today in funeral services which bestowed the last tender offices of the government he served, the church in which he worshipped, and the people whom he loved.

Thousands paid their homage as he lay in state under the dome of the capitol. Then in All Souls church, high on Sixteenth st. hill, he received the simple ministrations of the Unitarian faith in which he lived. The federal government claimed him last of all, for military burial at Arlington.

A blustery March rainstorm, which whipped into the faces of his military escort and drenched the great flag draped about his casket, overcast the somber picture of the passing of the only man in American history to serve both as president and chief justice of his country.

President Hoover led the nation in tribute. As the cortege passed the White House he stood bareheaded with Mrs. Hoover beneath the portico. At All Souls' church, with all of the other high officials of the government, he took part in the short service.

The pew where Taft himself had worshipped for many years was banked high with flowers. His own pastor, the Rev. Ulysses G. B. Pierce, read some bits of poetry, intoned a few lines of scripture, and said a prayer. The organ pealed the supplicatory notes of "Abide With Me," and "Lead Kindly Light."

That was all. There was no funeral oration.

For nearly two hours the body lay on a catafalque in the center of the spacious rotunda while those in all stations in life passed for a last glance at the leader who as president and chief justice ordered himself to the nation with his generous personality.

It was estimated that more than 6,000 passed the bier.

The funeral ceremonies began almost as soon as the city was astir, reached their climatic peak of popular tribute before noon, as thousands filed by his bier in the rotunda of the capitol; and were not to end until late afternoon, with military burial at Arlington.

Pitiful showers of rain, cold and penetrating, began early in the day, dimming somewhat the military glories of the cortege prepared by the government he served so long, but softening the affectionate outpourings of the public whom he loved and who loved him.

The rain began an hour before the body was taken from the home on Wyoming av. where he died, to lie in state until noon under the rotunda of the capitol before it should be taken at last for the administrations of the church and military entombment at Arlington.

Early in the morning two policemen who had known the former president and chief justice for years, and who have been guarding his home during his illness, were permitted to enter and stand for a few minutes by the side of the flag draped, flower laden coffin.

Two troops of cavalry from the third regiment of Fort Myer drew up at attention before the Taft home at 8:48 a. m.

Behind it came the caisson preceded by the colors of the United States, of the regiment and of the troop.

Impressive Scene

The dun-colored cavalry horses were perfectly matched. The black caisson was drawn by white artillery horses with red saddle blankets. The two troops filled the half block in front of the home.

SEE LITTLE CHANCE OF STEEL MERGER

Doubt Shown as Meeting Is Held by Ohio and Bethlehem Steel Officials

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, March 11—Merger of the Youngstown Sheet & Tube Co. with the Bethlehem Steel corporation is impossible at the present time, leading figures in the merger negotiations said today.

Leading stockholders of the Youngstown concern said the votes of more than 500,000 shares of stock are opposed to the proposed Bethlehem deal, which has been under consideration at least several days. There are 1,200,000 shares in the company and the consent of two-thirds of them would be necessary to approve the consolidation, according to the company's charter.

Meeting Proceeds

Despite the known fact that there are sufficient votes alligned to block the merger, many of the leading figures of the steel industry were to meet here today to consider the project and the relationship of conflicting interests.

Eugene G. Grace, president of Bethlehem, James A. Campbell, chairman of Youngstown Sheet & Tube, and Cyrus S. Eaton, Cleveland financier who organized the $350,000,000 Republic Steel corporation, were the principal figures concerned.

It was taken for granted the parley was called in an attempt to pave the way for the merger scheduled to be laid before directors of the Youngstown company at that city tomorrow.

Chief Opposition

The chief opposition had emanated from Youngstown citizens, who hold about 20 per cent of the stock. It was considered that Eaton likewise opposed the merger as the dominant figure in the Eaton-Otis-Cliffs corporation in which William G. Mather is a conspicuous figure. The group is believed to control 20 per cent of the stock.

Mather, however, and his brother Samuel, believed to indirectly control 35 per cent of the stock, in the past have been guided by the wishes of Campbell.

The remainder of the stock is about equally divided between Youngstown residents and general investors.

Goes to Grave in Chief Justice Robes

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, March 11—William Howard Taft goes to his grave dressed in the robes of chief justice of the United States.

The pleated folds of the black robe that he wore during the years he was on the bench were cloaked about his broad shoulders as he lay in the black, burnished casket at the capitol.

His face was turned slightly to one side and light sifting through the dome fell upon his strong profile. His expression was peaceful, though a touch of gravity was added by the marks that illness has left upon his face.

Law Requires Court To Remain Open

WASHINGTON, March 11—While all other branches of the federal government closed down today in memory of William Howard Taft, the United States supreme court, over which he presided for nine busy years, remained open as usual.

Under the law, the court had to remain open for the filing of briefs

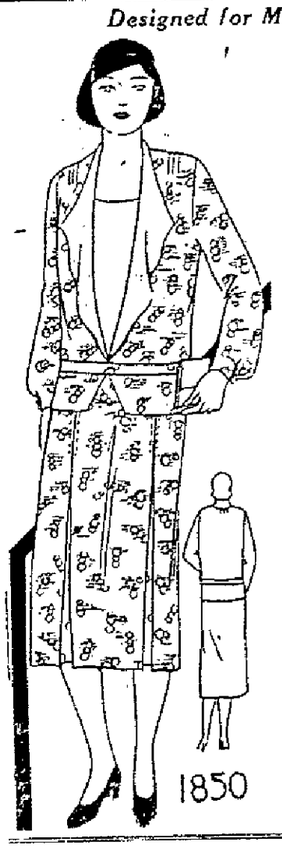
Chic Star Patterns

Practical and Simple

Designed for Matured Figures



PATTERN 1850

If you are no longer slender you will enjoy this frock designed especially for larger women. The touch of softness given by flared revers is most becoming, and the length given by the vestee, skirt pleats and pointed joining the skirt and blouse, is particularly good. Note the puffed sleeves above, neat fitting cuffs—a detail entirely new.

Pattern 1850 is charming made of printed silk crepe and trimmed with a solid color. Dark grounds with very small designs are not apt to enlarge the figure—black with chartreuse, navy blue with grey, brown with tan or green with beige. The trimming may be beige, grey or flesh.

May be obtained only in sizes 38, 40, 42, 44, 46 and 48. Size 38 requires 3½ yards of 40-inch material and ⅝ yard trimming.

Patterns will be delivered upon receipt of FIFTEEN CENTS (15c) in coin carefully wrapped or stamps. Be sure to write plainly your NAME, ADDRESS, STYLE NUMBER and SIZE Wanted.

Our LATEST FASHION BOOK will be sent upon receipt of TEN CENTS in coin.

How Women Lose Fat In England

GAIN PHYSICAL CHARM

How would you like to lose 15 pounds of fat in a month and at the same time increase your energy and improve your health?

How would you like to lose unhealthy fat that you don't need and don't want and at the same time feel better than you have for years?

How would you like to lose your double chin and your too prominent abdomen and at the same time make your skin so clean and clear that it will compel admiration?

How would you like to get your weight down to normal and at the same time develop that urge for activity that makes work a pleasure and also gain in ambition and keenness of mind?

Get on the scales today and see how much you weigh—then get an 85 cent bottle of Kruschen Salts which will last you 4 weeks. Take one half teaspoonful every morning in a glass of hot water and when you have finished the first bottle weigh yourself again.

Now you can laugh at the people who pay hundreds of dollars to lose a few pounds of fat—now you will know the pleasant way to lose unsightly fat and you'll also know that the 6 vitalizing salts of Kruschen (Salts that your blood, nerves and glands must have to function properly)—have presented you with glorious health.

After that you'll want to walk around and say to your friends.—"One 85 cent bottle of Kruschen Salts is worth one hundred dollars of any fat person's money."

Leading druggists America over sell Kruschen Salts—you can always get it at Bradley's Drug Store.—Adv.

Colorful Program Marks Lecture-Recital Concert

A COLORFUL program, ranging from arias to negro spirituals, was enjoyed by members and patrons of the Lecture-Recital club when a number of out-of-town artists were presented by the club in a guest artist program last night at Hotel Harding. Guests included Mrs. Maude Machestanz and Miss Frances Harbison, Kenton; Mrs. Elizabeth Latta McHenry, Zanesville; T. R. Evans, and E. L. Howe, Paul M. Byers, Forest Hill and W. E. Orcutt, members of the Canto club quartet. The club will conclude the season with a program, March 24.

Plays In Costume

Mrs. Machestanz, whose playing has added to the pleasure of a number of musical programs here, and Miss Harbison, a talented young pianist, opened the program with "Hungarian Dances," Brahms and "Dornroschen," Tschikowsky, arranged for two pianos. Mrs. McHenry chose a group of French songs for her opening selections, which she sang in costume. She opened the group with "Manon's Farewell," from Massenet's opera, "Manon." Her other numbers were an operatic selection "Maiden So Fair," from the opera "Aridant," 1709, and "Les Guelfes," from the opera "Cantilius." Mrs. McHenry's beautiful and vibrant voice won her audience in this group and in her second group which included "The Shepherd Lehl" from the fairy opera "Snegourotchka," and "Song of India," both by Rimsky-Korsakow. The latter group also was presented in costume.

Mrs. McHenry was accompanied in her presentation by Mrs. Harold K. Mouser. Mrs. McHenry is president of the music clubs of Zanesville. Prior to going to Zanesville she sang in opera and was interested in the music clubs of Pennsylvania, serving as president of the state organization.

T. R. Evans, director of music in the city schools, was heard in two violin numbers, accompanied at the piano by Miss Melvina Summers. He chose for his first number "Romance," from Wieniawski's second concerto for violin, and carried his audience with him through "Meditation," from Massent's opera, "Thais," always a favorite. Mr. Evans' numbers were played with feeling and his interpretations were enthusiastically received. Members of the Canto club quartet chose for its presentation a group of negro spirituals including "Of Gray Robe," Huntley, "Tis Me," Burleigh and "Hallelujah."

Program Well Received

These delightful numbers gave a balance to the program and was in pleasing contrast to the equally delightful and heavier presentations. The accompaniments for the spirituals were played by Cecil Gabler.

Mrs. Unger Burgess, an out-of-town member of the club who possesses a voice of vibrant range and quality, chose for her solo the dramatic selection, "Farewell Ye Hills," from Tschaikowsky's opera, "Jeanne d' Arc." Her accompaniments were played by Mrs. Mouser, who also accompanied Mrs. McHenry and Mrs. Unger in the concluding number of the program the duet from "Pique Dame," by Tschaikowsky.

All the numbers were appreciably received and the guests responded to encores.

The actor winked at John Andrew, lifted his hat, and strode away.

"Did all that really happen?" Anne asked, after Kellogg had slipped the Mercury into high and shot the jade green roadster ahead. "It's so silly."

"Made a fool of myself," John Andrew admitted.

"If, if you hadn't come by four—"

"You'd probably have pulled his nose yourself."

". . . I wouldn't have known what to do," the girl said, leaning frankly against Kellogg. "I'd have been afraid of what he might have done to me with Consolidated. That is, I suppose I would."

"You didn't answer Carey's question," said John Andrew, swinging the jade green car into a broad, tree lined street, and driving more slowly. "How do you like acting here?"

Anne said, "I like it. Of course I like it." Defiantly. "What makes you think I don't? It's only that some of the things are rather stupid. Like Chester's having a makeup table on the set, mirror and all. Nobody dares sit in his chair. We rehearse and rehearse and rehearse, and usually don't know why we're doing it. And today, this afternoon, every one, Mr. Armstrong and all of the engineers, listened to the way I was talking, and argued over the playback records all the time . . ."

"Sound pictures are so new that they've got to be on the job," John Andrew informed her.

"It—it almost frightened me. As if something were going wrong—"

John Andrew found Anne's hand with his free one: "There's always me to fall back on," he suggested.

"And when the money from the camera, I want to hear all about it, when that's spent on expensive cars and things like that, what will we do? Oh, I didn't mean to say that, John Andrew, I'm tired. Love me"

"I do," John Andrew told her.

"Have you really sold it?"

"Cross my heart," said John Andrew. "You'll probably see it working before very long. Every time you don't hear it click, you can think of me."

"Every cent goes into the bank!" John Andrew protested. "Don't I get any honeymoon, woman?"

Capitulation: "I've got to finish this picture, John Andrew—"

"And doing it as Mrs. Kellogg ought to keep our friend Chester at a distance."

"He'd just . . . work differently," Anne laughed. Sitting beside Kellogg, in the purring Mercury, Chester, Consolidated, seemed very far away. "I'm going to finish what I started. And you'd better finish making the payments on this car, too, with the money you get."

"All paid for, treasurer."

John Andrew, guiding the roadster away from the city, considered suggesting that he sell the Mercury—as he would do in the morning—and that they have a less expensive machine; no need to do that, however, since Anne, save this one concession, would not see him until the coming week, when everything would be settled.

"Do you think the attention they paid me this afternoon meant anything?" Anne asked, when the street lights spaced far apart.

John Andrew remembered Carey's conversation.

"Hard to tell," he said. "But, as a cheering thought, there's always me, you know. You want to make good pretty badly, little Anne?"

She nodded. "Terribly," she admitted. "I've always worked hard . . . things have not come easily—"

"I did," John Andrew said lightly. "I fell the moment I saw you."

"It's been said that just as few people make a success of marriage as in any other profession," Anne responded more gaily. "We'll do that, too. We'll be the famous happy but married couple of Hollywood—"

"Will Rogers beat you to that," John Andrew disagreed. "If you really want to do something that's never been done—"

"Yes?" as Kellogg paused.

"Just marry me."

Anne said, "Silly." And, more softly, "Sweetheart."

In a small voice the girl said at last, "I'd like to have you drive and drive ahead . . . anywhere. And, at the end of the road . . . late."

John Andrew said huskily, his arm tight about her, "A good hot dinner."

"You didn't mean that, did you?"

"No," said John Andrew gently. "No, little sweetheart. But it seemed the best thing to say."

"You always say the best thing."

"I love you," said John Andrew, as if that answered everything.

"What would you want at the end of the road?" Anne asked peacefully.

"You," said John Andrew.

"What else? Don't you ever dream about things, John Andrew?"

"Well . . . let's see. First we'd drive on north, back to San Francisco. Then we'd book passage on the T. K. K. boats, Japan. I've rather wanted to see it again. Plum blossoms in the sun. Temples. Nights with the Three Councillors blazing in the sky. A little inn. A cup of the cold purple wine they bring from China. And . . . well, like old Koto says, in a story he used to tell me, 'Then their lips separated no more; the night grew old, and they knew it not' . . ."

"Who is Koto?" the girl asked.

"My boy," Kellogg said, in the same rapt voice. "Left him in my apartment in New York. You'll love him, Anne; he bosses me around, and he'll give you orders, too. He's uglier than the thunder god, and makes as much noise; when he hisses, that's the sign of politeness, it sounds like lightning . . . what's the matter? Cold? Want me to turn back?"

"You promised, John Andrew!"

"Promised what? Oh . . . yes . . . that's right; I did."

"You're making things up again. You do it so truthfully . . ."

Anne lowered her voice. "Don't let the money you get from Consolidated turn your head. Dear boy, I love you just the same, money or no money. I've never had any, and——"

Anne laughed. "Who wouldn't? It's fun to dream about. Houses. Places to go. A little Boston on a crimson chair."

John Andrew thought it all over. "I'll say this," he announced finally. "You haven't even asked me how much I expect to make on the transaction."

Mockingly, Anne said, "Millions, John Andrew. Millions."

"How'd you guess?" Kellogg blurted in surprise. "Somebody tell you?"

"I knew you'd only sell on a royalty basis, and dream your profits, although I really hoped you'd take the actual money. I asked you before if you ever dreamed about things; you always do."

"Always," he said.

It was another mile before he spoke again. "You're a rotten guesser. We sold the Blake-Kellogg patent for $25,000. Half's mine."

"And now you want to celebrate, don't you?" Anne teased. "All right, John Andrew; tonight you may be as extravagant as you like. I'll order everything I've ever heard about for dinner . . . and you can help me if I neglect anything . . . and then tomorrow you must make believe you never made the money at all, and go back to work. Tonight we can play that you're a . . . what do they call it in the papers? . . . a young scion of wealth."

To Be Continued.

Schools can't help but be popular everywhere. They keep the children out of mischief most of the day.

To End a Cough In a Hurry, Mix This at Home

To end a stubborn cough quickly it is important to soothe and heal the inflamed membranes, get rid of the germs and also to aid the system inwardly to throw off the trouble.

For these purposes, here is a home-made medicine, far better than anything you could buy at 3 times the cost. From your druggist, get 2½ ounces of Pinex. Pour this into a pint bottle, and add plain granulated sugar syrup or strained honey to fill up the pint. This takes but a moment, and makes a remedy so effective that you will never do without once you have used it. Keeps perfectly, and children like it.

This simple remedy does three necessary things. First, it loosens the germ-laden phlegm. Second, it soothes away the inflammation. Third, it is absorbed into the blood, where it acts directly on the bronchial tubes. This explains why it brings such quick relief, even in the obstinate bronchial coughs which follow cold epidemics.

Pinex is a highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway Pine, containing the active agent of creosote, in a refined, palatable form, and known as one of the greatest healing agents for severe coughs, chest colds and bronchial troubles.

Do not accept a substitute for Pinex. It is guaranteed to give prompt relief or money refunded.

DEPEND ON ZEMO TO STOP ITCHING

Use soothing, healing, invisible Zemo for the torture of Itching Skin. This clean, reliable family antiseptic helps bring relief in thousands of homes, stops itching and draws the heat and sting out of the skin. ZEMO has been used for twenty years with remarkable success for all forms of annoying, itching skin irritations. "Relief with first application," thousands say. 35c, 60c and $1.00. All dealers. —Adv.

Jubilee's Pardner

A Story of Boyhood Adventure

BY JUDD M. LEWIS

TUESDAY. It was still darkish when I let Jubilee down by his rope, but by the time I had carried out my ashes and had milked the dummed brutes, the sun was coming up and the sky was clear and the air was hammy. My grandfather was setting on the back steps fixing his fishing tackle and seeing how far he could spit. He had a lot of rubber angel worms he is going to use for bait and they looked so much like really angel worms that when I snuck back of the barn and found a truly angel worm and wiped the dirt off of it and snuck it in amongst the rubber ones it looked just like the others, and when my grandfather picked them up to look at them and it began to squirm, my grandfather jumped and dropped them and said, "By golly, that's the best imitation I ever saw; it thinks it is alive!" Then he counted them and grinned up at me and I think he knew how come.

After breakfast I swiped a rubber worm and tied one end of it to a rock and buried it so the other end stuck out of the ground, and there were a lot of robins hopping around the yard, and pretty soon one of them jumped on the rubber worm and pretty soon it was having the fight of its life trying to pull it out of the ground, and then other robins came and had a scrap over it, and before they got done trying they were using the kind of language my grandfather does, only it didn't sound so bad in bird language. I went and got it and put it back when it came time to go to school. I bet if it would fool a robin it would fool a fish because a fish hasn't got any more forehead than a robin and hasn't got any brains. Anything don't need brains to be a fish.

When school had let out and we had got our dogs we made it up that we would go out to the woods by the pasture and get us some slippery ellum to chew on. I don't like slippery ellum because it is too slick, but everyone chews it in the spring, so I have to show that I can get as much and chew as much as anyone. We chewed some sassafras with it and then it wasn't so bad, but it wasn't very good. Louniss didn't like it. But girls aren't so very brite.

When we were going in our yard the Lost Bag of Tripe was there waiting for us. He had a fence picket with a nail in it, so I would be afraid to land on him for pasting me with the rotten turnip, but I borrowed Hopper's crutch and when he swung back with the picket to let me have it he hit Maggie (the red-headed skinnymedink that got fascinated on her leg) in the stummick, so I didn't have any more to do because she was all over him like the measles before he had found out what was the matter, and she rubbed his nose in the dirt and chaseted him home.

Love's Reawakening

A Wife's Triumph Over Jealousy

BY ADELE GARRISON

The Journey Ends

AS I walked out of the garage door in obedience to Harry Underwood's dictum to "hurry up and tell Lil" my news from Robert Sayrin's neighbor I saw her figure and Mary's several rods down the road. It was but a second, however, until Lillian looked back, and when she saw me she whirled and came toward me. I saw her turn her head and speak to Mary as she started, and when Dicky's young niece lagged behind her I knew that she had asked the girl to wait for a little before coming up to us.

I almost ran to meet her and as soon as I could make myself audible without shouting I called out: "All right, dear."

She stopped, swaying a little, then came up to me at a pace as swift as my own.

"You're not fooling me?" she whispered, then impulsively, "I beg your pardon, Madge, but I—"

"For what?" I retorted, with purposeful tartness. "Haven't we enough on hand without you clattering up the place with social forms. You'd be much better employed in listening quietly to my news. Mrs. Hasbrouck says that Robert is no worse tonight, that she was talking to his sister just before I called. She will have two rooms, with two beds in each, and a hot supper for us when we get there. I stipulated for the extra bed so that I can sleep in either room, depending upon whether you want to be alone or have me in the room with you."

She put her hand on my shoulder. "You never forget anything, dear girl," she said, a bit unsteadily.

"Thank you," I said a bit gruffly, for I knew that she was perilously near an emotional breakdown, and that it behooved me to keep the conversation on as matter-of-fact a plane as possible. "Now here is something which I did without consulting you, but which I think is wise. I asked Mrs. Hasbrouck to tell Mrs. Cosgrove that we would be there tonight and to use her own judgment as to telling her brother we were coming. I hope you approve."

"I approve, unconditionally, anything you do," she said earnestly. "And now—did Harry get the gas? Are we all ready to start?"

"I am sure we are," I said. "Shall I tell Mary to hurry up?"

"Please!" she said tensely. "It's my fault she's loitering. I asked her to wait until I had talked to you. I don't know what she'll think."

Spill the Beans

"Does it matter?" I asked, and, on the word, turned and signaled to Mary, who promptly accelerated her pace and caught up to us as we were climbing into the car.

"How about it, Mary? Want to sit with me again?" Mr. Underwood queried, and I knew that he must consider there was no further danger of espionage from the detective he had shaken off below Tarrytown.

But it was not until after we had reached Mrs. Hasbrouck's hospitable roof that I found out what means he had employed for getting rid of the man. When Lillian, Mary and I had been shown to our rooms and Mrs. Hasbrouck had gone down to her kitchen to give the final touches to the warm supper she had promised us, Lillian shut the door of her room, where I also had put my bag, leaving to Mary the smaller room adjoining and faced me tensely.

"Madge," she said, "I can't go over there first, this way, after so long, and see Mrs. Cosgrove. She—must—hate—me for what she naturally considers my intuition to her brother. Will you go over and see her first?"

"Of course", I said promptly. "I'll have time while Mrs. Hasbrouck is getting supper. "But I'm sure you are mistaken about Mrs. Cosgrove's feeling."

"I hope so," she said, but with no conviction in her voice, and with no further comment I left her.

Her husband was standing just outside the front door when I came out. "I've been watching for you," he said. "Where are you going?"

I told him that Lillian had asked me to do, but withheld her fear of Mrs. Cosgrove's disapproval. His keen perception, however, read what I withheld.

"I can imagine this sister wouldn't be very keen about seeing Lil," he said, "but you'll be able to smooth things over. But that isn't why I wanted to see you. I want to thank you for the way you played up about that detective and to spill you what few beans I've collected about him."

Proud Mother!

Bobby Temple, 7, of 5883 Pearl Road, Cleveland, is the picture of health. No wonder his mother says: "I'm proud as can be of my little son. He's always bright, active, robust.

"I give California Fig Syrup a lot of credit for his wonderful condition. I have used it with him for every little upset or cold. It always has him back to normal in a few hours."

When a child shows, by bad breath coated tongue, biliousness or feverishness, that the little bowels are clogged, you know the system needs a prompt cleansing.

California Fig Syrup does the work quickly and gently. In addition, it helps tone and strengthen weak bowels and stomach. So it gives lasting help.

The word California marks the genuine: the pure vegetable product loved by children and pronounced safe and effective by doctors.—Adv.

In Seven Days Fiery, Itching Skin Gets Sure Relief

Here is a surgeon's wonderful prescription now dispensed by chemists at trifling cost, that will do more toward helping you get rid of unsightly spots and skin disease than anything you've ever used.

Not only does this great healing antiseptic oil promote rapid and healthy healing in open sores and wounds, but boils, abscesses and ulcers are almost immediately relieved and clearly healed.

In skin diseases its action is little less than magical. The itching of Eczema is instantly stopped; the eruptions dry up and scale off in a very few days. The same is true of barbers' itch, salt rheum and other skin eruptions and inflammation.

You can obtain Moone's Emerald Oil (full strength) in the original bottle at Bradley's Drug Store or any modern drug store. It is safe to use, and failure in any of the ailments noted above is rare indeed.—Adv.

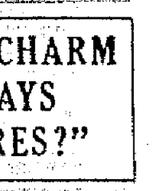
Movie Directors say: "Lovely Skin"

"The one thing which is universally alluring is smooth, velvety skin," say 45 of Hollywood's most famous directors. "To a screen star it is invaluable for the public takes to its heart only those whose skin shows flawlessly smooth in the close-up."

Ruth Elder

Hollywood has long been aware of the great appeal beautiful skin has to the emotions. For years 9 out of 10 screen stars have been relying on Lux Toilet Soap to give their skin the lovely smoothness the public demands.

Ruth Elder's beauty and daring have made her famous. She is now under contract to Hoot Gibson and her lovely skin passes the severest test of the close-up easily. "Lux Toilet Soap keeps my skin so wonderfully smooth," she explains.



Betty Francisco

Charming Betty Francisco also uses this delicately fragrant white soap. She says: "It leaves my skin like velvet."

Delightful Kathryn Crawford states: "I always use Lux Toilet Soap." No wonder it is the official soap in all the great studio dressing rooms.

FORD SAYS BUSINESS BEHIND BOOTLEGGING

...otor Magnate Charges Money Interests with Backing Liquor Traffic

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, March 11—The New York World today quotes Henry Ford as saying the big money interests of New York are back of the bootlegging in this country, and that liquor interests are concentrating near his factories in Dearborn, Mich., because they know he is a dry.

The World sent a staff representative to Dearborn to establish, it explains, how much comfort and prosperity the eighteenth amendment has brought to Dearborn. The mission was inspired by Ford's telegram last week to the house judiciary committee describing the amendment as the greatest force for comfort and prosperity of the United States.

"Do you think I don't know who is back of the bootlegging in this country?" Ford is quoted as asking.

"It is the big money interests in New York. You don't think that the bootleggers could finance these big liquor deals themselves, do you?

"Do you think I don't know that liquor is sold in Dearborn? Of course I know it. It is sold here because the liquor interests are concentrating in this neighborhood because they know I am a dry.

"Prohibition can be enforced because we enforce it here at the factory. I simply won't let men work here if they drink.

"Why are the New York newspapers so interested in prohibition? I'll tell you why. It is because they are controlled and they do what they are told. Everybody wants to show up Henry Ford's town."

"KONJOLA PROVED GODSEND," SAID THIS TOLEDO MAN

Suffered Two Years From Kidney Ailment; Grateful For Relief Brought By New Medicine

MR. JEPHHA KING

"About two years ago I became afflicted with kidney trouble," said Mr. Jephha King, Route No. 1, Holland, near Toledo. "I had terribly severe pains across the small of my back. This pain became so bad that I often found it necessary to remain in bed for days at a time and work was out of the question. I did not know what it meant to enjoy a night of refreshing sleep. I lost weight and became terribly run down and discouraged.

"From the very start Konjola went to the source of my troubles. Four bottles completely changed my whole outlook on life. I never have an ache nor a pain and I sleep soundly throughout the night. I do not suffer from constipation, the back pains are gone, my kidneys function properly and I am working every day. My entire system has been built up by this great medicine until I have gained in weight and strength. I am in excellent health for the first time in years."

SPRING

A Formal Presentation That Answers Every Question Regarding The Marked Evolution Of Fashion

WHAT is the correct new silhouette? What is the right length of skirts? How high should the waistline be? What are the leading Spring colors? The 1930 fabrics? All these and every other question of Spring fashion are answered in a comprehensive collection that portrays every mood of the new mode.

Brief But Important Fashion Points

Skirts are longer and appear fuller.
The silhouette is primarily slenderizing.
New cape themes and boleros are important.
The long, supple princess line dominates.
Interest is often concentrated at the back.
Low placed fullness is evident in coats, dresses and suits.
Low placed fullness is newest for evening.
Dressmaker technique is much in evidence.
The tailored suit and ensemble are strongly featured.
The scarf and bow themes are endorsed.
Prints are excellent in crepes and chiffons.
Dress lengths lengthen as the sun goes down.
Spring Millinery is more feminine.

Old Brewery, Once Busy Place, Now Grows Musty

MAMMOTH vats once produced thousands of barrels of beer yearly in the old Marion Brewery building, on Bellefontaine av., near the Pennsylvania railroad, but now the clicking of bottles and the gurgling of the liquid as it was poured into barrels has been stilled.

Instead, the building now is being used as a storeroom by various concerns. A Bellefontaine house uses part of the big brick structure for storing sugar, a local oil company uses another part for storage purposes, and two retail automobile dealers make use of the rest of the space for storing new and used cars.

The office, which once transacted a great deal of business, is now being used by a biscuit company as its office and storehouse, and the icehouse has given away to a garage, as well as a barn which once sheltered five big dray horses.

"The brewery was one of the best in the state back in the gay nineties," declared one man who was connected with the business in its early years of existence.

"We made from 3,500 to 8,000 barrels every year, but due to the pressure of competition from Columbus we were never able to pay dividends. One Columbus brewery made 175,000 barrels yearly and quite naturally was able to meet our prices at every turn."

Marion saloons and those in nearby towns were reached by the local brewery both by drays and by railroad.

EXPLORERS CONFUSED IN MIDST OF TRAFFIC

Members of Byrd Party Have Their Troubles on Return from Antarctic

DUNEDIN, N. Z., March 11 — Somewhat confused by automobiles and street cars after spending more than a year in the snowbound and desolate loneliness of the Antarctic, Rear Admiral Richard E. Byrd and the members of his expedition today renewed acquaintance with civilization while the barque City of New York went on drydock for refitting preparatory to the party resuming its journey to New York.

After dodging automobiles Maurice Hanson, chief radio engineer, said that previously he had thought New York was the largest city in the world but since his return here yesterday he could not help but think Dunedin, which has a population of about 55,000, was the hub of the universe.

Many members of the party went riding in American automobiles and electric cars or walking on pavements about town, all strange to them after the many months on the ice and snow of the Antarctic. The ships were deserted by the party, and the members have taken up residence in hotels where comfortable chairs and rich foods are receiving special attention. A round of receptions has been provided in honor of Admiral Byrd and his party.

Admiral Byrd declined to divulge any important conclusion he reached after his exploration of the Antarctic. He stressed the importance of the flight during which he discovered and surveyed 250,000 square miles of previously unmapped territory and rated his perilous flight over the Pole as secondary.

ACCIDENTAL VERDICT RETURNED IN DEATH

Officials Say Marseille Youths Not To Blame in Fatal Accident

FUNERAL WEDNESDAY

Drivers Say George Wingate, 66, Stepped in Front of Car

Special To The Star

RENTON, March 11—Funeral services for George Wingate, 66, Kenton, retired employe of the state highway department who died in McKitrick hospital Monday from injuries sustained when struck by an automobile driven by Ralph Rose, 18, and his brother Arthur, 16, of Marseilles, occupants of the car that hit Wingate, will be held following investigation. The boys said the man suddenly stepped from behind a parked truck and started across the highway in front of the car driven by Ralph Rose. Wingate died in the Kenton hospital at 2:30 o'clock Monday morning. He suffered a fractured skull, a broken leg and internal injuries in the accident which occurred at 7:30 o'clock Sunday night on state route 4, one mile south of Renton.

Wingate was walking on the left side of the highway when struck by the car driven by Rose, according to the boys. Rose was driving north at the time. Wingate was struck by the left front fender and thrown to the pavement. The car was not damaged.

Wingate was born in Kenton and lived there all his life. He was employed by the state highway department for 20 years. He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Ella Wingate, a son, Ralph Wingate, Kenton, and a daughter, Mrs. Ruth Wingate, Kenton.

Funeral services will be held at the Brindley Mortuary in charge of the Rev. D. Earl Rhoads. Interment will be in Grove cemetery.

Dr. D. Emmett Johnson, Hardin county coroner, late Monday announced verdict of accidental death after investigating the tragic mishap. The probe was conducted in conjunction with that of Deputy Sheriff W. E. Mitchell.

Floyd Crowe, 18, and his brother Arthur, 16, of Marseilles, occupants of the car that hit Wingate when not held following investigation. They said the man suddenly stepped from behind a parked truck and started across the highway in front of the car.

Egyptian Fish Forsake Water for Air Travel

CAIRO—Fish have taken up aviation in Egypt.

Live fish of several varieties are making frequent flights from Alexandrian waters to the lake at Fayoum to take up their new domicile.

Carefully packed in special cases they are confided to the tender mercies of the airplane pilot for the duration of the trip.

This stocking of Karoun Lake at Fayoum is taking place under the direction of the Egyptian Fisheries Department. Air transport is found to be the most practical because it takes the shortest possible time.

A man can be always harping that he can't understand women—except when he is harping that he is misunderstood.

One who has tried to and failed makes a good critic. He knows exactly where the difficult spot is, and keeps his eye open for it.

The Thief's First Choice

The most attractive object of thievery is jewelry. The reasons aren't hard to find, and the chief ones are accessibility, small bulk and high value.

The reasons that make jewels tempting to the dishonest are also the very reasons why you should carry insurance on the jewels that you own. We can supply you with a very comprehensive Policy at low cost.

SPORT SLANTS
By Alan J. Gould

By the Associated Press

WHEN Big Bill Carey, the bluff Irishman and railroad builder, returns from a trip to South America, it will not be surprising to see some over-hauling done in the organization machinery of the Madison Square Garden Corporation, New York's plutocratic power in professional sports.

It is no secret, among other things, that all was not well in the operations this winter at Miami. A substantial number of directors of the corporation, including Carey, not only felt they had been maneuvered into a doubtful match but that the job of putting it on was not quite all that could be desired. Tex Rickard would have blushed at some of the feeble attempts to ballyhoo the Scott-Sharkey affair, though he would have been pleased with at least one feature of it—the "boxing tea" in the exclusive patio of the Oasis Club at Palm Beach. The trouble with that stunt was that the blase folks of P. B. took their view of Phil Scott with some audible sniff-sniffing.

Frank J. Bruen, the Garden's general manager, has devoted most of his career to the conduct of race tracks. He was in charge of the Hialeah track during the winter at Miami, a job that took the major portion of his time and ingenuity, especially when the gambling element was caught in the middle of a local political jam. Bruen, consequently, was not able to devote the time to the fight preparations that they needed. Carey effected re-arrangements when he reached the scene but it was then a trifle late to accomplish any marked results.

Connie Mack won't be able to "slip one over" this spring the way he did a year ago when the Athletics came back from the South supposedly in very doubtful condition, none too well regarded by even their own camp correspondents, only to step out and knock the American League race into a row of royal palms. As a matter of fact, the A's did have some sore arms or wiggly toes or something, but the astute Mr. Mack (he admitted to me some time later) wangled a bit loath to have this pessimism rampant at the outset of the 1929 race. It made his job easier, without any especially high expectations to fulfill, as had been the case when he had his cast headed by Tris Speaker and Ty Cobb a year or so before.

This spring, however, the Mackmen are favorites from the start. No amount of groaning, no quantity of aches or pains can alter that, and Mr. Mack will also take that situation quite philosophically. He will tell his young men that they did pretty well last year but that past performances don't produce baseballs or shutouts. He will advise them to knuckle down to business and stay knuckled down, if they want to "cut in" on another world's series melon.

At the Roman Pools, Miami Beach, where the National women's swimming championships will be held the middle of March, there's a jazz orchestra perched at one end of the tank to entertain the aquatic customers . . . Young Stribling wanted $25,000 to take a spot on the Miami fight card, featuring the Scott-Sharkey mess, and might have been worth it as an attraction to the Dixie fans.

MARION COUNTY'S GIRL CHAMPS

After going through the past season with a highly commendable record the Martel girls crashed through the Marion county class B tournament to win the county championship. Coach O. Prashun developed an outfit which showed great form throughout the entire year, few teams being able to win from them. They are: Sitting left to right, Doris Burkhart, Gertrude Redeck, Ellen Lyon, Gladys Kennedy, Grace Ness and Mary Ellen Reed. Standing left to right, Helen Ott, Irene Guinther, Coach Prashun, Clara Rush, and Beulah Guinther.

Y INDUS CLUB HOLDS ANNUAL BANQUET

Marion County Class B Champs Presented Loving Cup

Celebrating their unusual success throughout the past basketball season and honoring the Prospect High school cagers, winners of the Marion County Class B championship, Y-Indus club held their annual banquet at the Snyder barbeque last night.

At the conclusion of the dinner Bud Cram, master of ceremonies and captain of the Y-Indus team, presented the captain of the Prospect team with a silver loving cup which is awarded each year by the club to the winners of the class B title. Cram also presented on behalf of the club, a billfold to Karl R. McElroy, retiring sports editor of The Marion Star, in appreciation of the splendid co-operation and publicity which he has given the Y team throughout the preceding two years. He also introduced the new sports editor, Bob Kirkpatrick.

Dewey Bohrer, football coach of Harding, delivered the main speech of the program. Mr. Bohrer reviewed for the gathering, the development of athletics, stressing the evolution of training methods and the desirability of amateur sports in contrast with professional athletics.

Charles B. Rayburn, superintendent of Marion county schools, also spoke, lauding the club for all it has accomplished in the past and expressing his willingness to assist it in any way possible in the future.

Philadelphia — George Godfrey, Leipersville, Pa., stopped Jack Gross, Salem, N. J., five.

MINNESOTA DEFEATS INDIANA IN FINAL CONTEST OF YEAR

Hoosier Center Breaks Scoring Record Held by "Stretch" Murphy

CHICAGO, March 11—The Big Ten basketball season was a closed chapter today with the dramatic 34 to 20 victory Minnesota scored over Indiana last night in the final game of the year. Neither the championship Purdue team nor the second place Wisconsin five was affected by Minnesota's victory, but the result chastised Indiana out of third place and tossed the Hoosier team into a tie with Illinois for fourth place.

Don Bonds, Minnesota guard, scored a pair of field goals in the overtime period to clinch the Gopher's victory.

Branch McCracken, Indian center and captain, shattered the seasonal scoring record of "Stretch" Murphy of Purdue by netting three baskets and three free shots. McCracken boosted his season total to 147 points, 10 ahead of Murphy's record.

Physical Department To Discuss Y Tournament

The physical department of the Y. M. C. A. will meet at noon Wednesday of this week to discuss the rules and regulations under which the fifth annual county Y. basketball tournament will be played. The games are to start on March 28.

Last year there were 28 teams entered in this meet and it is expected that at least that many will compete this year. Any team in the county is elegible to enter. Details will be published later.

Ohio State Awards 7 Basketball Letters

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., March 11—Ohio State University officially closed its basketball season last night with the annual appreciation dinner. John Evans, Columbus, was elected honorary captain. Varsity O's were awarded Evans, Richard Larkins, East Liverpool; Wesley Fesler, Youngstown; Harold Ervin, South Vienna; Jesse Stewart, Yellow Springs; Lowell Wrigley, Lima, and William Hinchman, Columbus.

Wilbur Such, Columbus; Jack Condon, Hamilton; Stewart Holcomb, Erie; Mike Kowal, Rochester; Ralston Russell, Jr., Pomeroy, and Earl Williams, Warren, were given reserve letters.

ACE CLUB TO GET MEDALS

What should prove to be an added incentive to Marion amateur golfers is the announcement of the United States Tire and Rubber Co. that it would present a medal to any one person who made a hole in one. (First class or duffer). All that is necessary to obtain the medal is to get the signature of the pro on whose course the feat is accomplished to sign a statement of the fact and the company will send the individual a medal.

MANAGER THINKS H MAY HAVE WINNE

Admits That Club Has Many Weaknesses, but Thir They Will Be Ironed Out

Editor's Note—This is the sixth of a series of articles by James L. Kilgallen, Marion Star staff writer, who is touring the spring training camps of major league ball clubs.

BY JAMES L. KILGALLEN
I. N. S. Sports Writer

CLEARWATER, Fla., March 11—"More pep out there!" shouted Manager Wilbert Robinson as he sat in the shade of the dugout here today and directed the training workout of the Brooklyn ball club.

"That's what I want—pep," said the genial, roly poly "Uncle Robbie."

"Robbie" tried to look stern. The fans in Brooklyn have been accusing him of being "too soft." And so this spring, his tenth year as manager of the club, he has started out to rule with an iron hand. He has "cut out" a lot of the "kidding" and he is making the boys work. He already has assessed $25 fines on Adolpho Luque and Hollis Thurston for reporting a little late and threatened to send one of the veterans to the minors.

"Where is this club going to finish this year?" Robinson was asked.

"I never predict," replied "Uncle Robbie," as he took a chew of licorice.

Then he told why. You can't tell in the spring how they'll perform in the fall. And besides, right now everything is "if" with Robinson when it comes to discussing the team's chances for 1929.

If Glenn Wright's arm comes back and he is able to perform at shortstop—

If Dazzy Vance has one of his great pitching years—

If Babe Herman's holdout tactics don't hurt the temperamental slugger's early season form—

If "Robbie" can develop some more right hand hitters and prevent the other clubs from "left handing us to death"—and

If the pitching staff comes through.

Well, "if" these things happen Brooklyn will have a real ball club.

"Bissonette looks pretty weak," it was suggested. The big first sacker was taking it easy. The left side of his head was still bandaged. He had been operated upon twice in recent months, for a mastoid and for sinus trouble.

"Oh, Bissonette's coming along o.k.," replied Robinson. "Why, he's gained seven pounds since we came to Clearwater. He'll start at first base."

"How about Wright at short?"

"I'm tickled to death about Wright's arm," was "Uncle Robbie's" response. "He's not curting loose yet. He is throwing fast enough to get his men. Look at him out there! Ain't he a sweet ball player. And how he can hit! Say, if his arm comes through you just want to watch my ball club."

Robinson pointed a fat finger at Jim Elliott, the big southpaw who was toiling on the mound.

"There's one guy who is right this year," said Robbie. "He was a corpse last season. The flu put him out of commission for almost the whole year. Why, there was no club in the league that had as tough luck as we had. Eight of our best men were out of commission one time. All we want this year is just a few fair breaks."

Asked to outline his probable line up, Robinson after a little hesitation said:

"DeBerry, Picinich and L. will take care of the catching. The pitching staff is in the making. Grimes will play first. Flowers, who was ill most of last year, is well and strong again and will be at second. If Wright's arm is o. k. the shortstop job is his. If not Eddie Moore will handle it. Wallie Gilbert will play third. The outfield will probably be made up of Herman in right, Stock in center and Bressler in left. If Herman doesn't start the season in right, I'll put Harvey Hendrick out there. If Bissonette is not ready to start at first I'll use Bressler in that position and put Hendrick in left.

"I've got plenty of reserve strength in this club. One thing I've got to do is find a way to stand off left handed pitching. That almost all of us last year because our best hitters are all left handers. I can put a right hand hitting team in readiness. I'm going to break up that jinx of left handing us into submission."

Robinson begins his tenth season with Brooklyn as manager only. He has shed the added position of president of the club and feels greatly relieved. As manager in 1920 Robinson led the Brooklyn club to the pennant. In 1921 he finished fifth, 1922 sixth, in 1923 sixth, in 1924 second, in 1925 sixth, in 1926 seventh, in 1927 sixth, in 1928 sixth and this year sixth.

JOHNSON LOSES ON F

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, March 11—A ing left, palpably foul, ended a spectacular battle between Maxey Rosenbloom and Larry Johnson in the sixth round of a ten round bout tonight, left Rosenbloom stretched on the canvas, helpless, and Johnson the loser by disqualification.

The first five rounds had been even. Rosenbloom weighed 173½; Johnson 174½.

Are You Alive to Value?

TWO-TROUSERS SUITS

COMING right at the beginning of the spring season, here, indeed, is a most opportune event. It offers you not only the authentic styles of the season, but unusually good woolens, the smarter patterns and colors—all at a price which doesn't even hint at the true value.

Puts You in a University Class

$19.50 $22.50 $24.50

with Two Pair Trousers

We don't mean that you High Schoolers will "skip" any grades...that you will jump from Harding High to Yale or Harvard when you wear a Under-Grad Suit...but we do claim that Under-Grad will put you in the same style "class" as the best dressed University men.

That's what you want...to know that your clothes are modeled in the style manner of every big campus in the country.

Under-Grad is a mighty good looking fellow...three buttons...only two to button...high cut six button vest...trousers that are as smart as Under-Grad style.

See Under-Grad in a brilliant range of Cheer Leader fabrics...in the newest tones and blendings.

Bull Group Behind Advance in Oils, Motors and Specialties

CRUDE PRODUCTION OFF

Atlantic Refining Moves to Year's Highest Prices; Inland Up

NEW YORK, March 11—In respect to the memory of William Howard Taft, the governors of the stock exchange ordered all business suspended today at 12:30 o'clock, narrowing the day's session, not only on the big board, but also on the curb, cotton exchange, produce exchange and commodity markets to two and one-half hours.

In a heavy turnover of stocks, which set the tickers back 21 minutes in the first hour, prices of the active shares were extremely irregular. The "bull party" was reported to be solidly behind the new advance in the oil, motor-car and specialty stocks, in some on which large blocks passed through the market.

The oil stocks responded with higher prices to the 80,000-barrel daily decrease in crude oil production as reported by The Oil and Gas Journal. Atlantic Refining was again the leader in that group, moving up to the year's highest price. The Standards of New York, New Jersey and California moved up to fractionally higher levels.

Inland was the feature of the independent steel shares, with a seven-point jump to 96, on reports that one or more of the big steel corporations were angling for control of the company. Bethlehem Steel spurted about two points at the start, recovering all of yesterday's late losses, and Youngstown was reactionary while awaiting more definite news from Ohio on the big merger with Bethlehem.

Foreign Bonds Show Strength

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, March 11—Buying orders for European and Latin-American dollar bonds again lifted quotations on those securities in today's market. Much of the inquiry came from abroad. The more active listings include those of Brazil, Chile, Argentina, Italy, San Paulo State and Belgium.

Trading in the domestic list during the abbreviated session centered in the rails, which continued to make progress. Chicago & North Western general 4½s and Illinois Central Western Lines 4s each moved up a point. Santa Fe general 4s, Cleveland, Cincinnati, Chicago & St. Louis general 4s, New York Central 3½s, Reading general 4s and Southern Railway 6½s showed persistent firmness.

Irregularity Marks Trading on Curb

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, March 11—The curb market worked irregularly higher today in one of the most active sessions of the year. Profit taking and bearish pressure brought large scale selling into the market. But operators for the advance fought for control of the movement with a fair measure of success. The market closed at 12:30 p. m. rather than 3 o'clock, in respect to the memory of former Chief Justice William Howard Taft.

Utilities were inclined to sag. Electric Bond & Share, selling ex-dividend, went to 99, but was firmly supported at that level.

Oils were firmer in response to early estimates indicating further curtailment of crude production last week. Gulf and Humble sold up about a point each. Cities Service, however, moved in a narrow range.

FALLS TO DEATH

Mrs. Pearl L. De Marel, of Washington, D. C., special stenographer to Secretary of State Simpson at the London naval conference, was killed when she accidentally fell from the window of her room in the Mayfair hotel. Mrs. De Maret was preparing to return to America when the tragedy occurred.

MAY, MARCH WHEAT ARE FORCED HIGHER

New Crop Months Average Lower on Bearish Federal Statements

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, March 11—Aggressive buying of May wheat lifted that month and March early today to well above yesterday's finish notwithstanding setbacks at the start. New crop months, July and September, however, averaged lower, affected by bearish aspects of the government farm board.

Persistent dry weather over Kansas, dust storms in Nebraska, and likelihood of unfavorable crop reports from other states as well, did much in the wheat market today to counterbalance official announcements of farm board officials that there was no intention of sending United States wheat abroad at prices lower than those which American millers now were paying.

On the other hand, Liverpool May wheat went to a discount under Chicago May wheat today, and European advices continued to stress reports of sharp competition between Argentina, Australia and Canada for the small amount of European business available. Dispatches were also current that German farmers were in a desperate plight, and that further government measures restricting grain imports into Germany were impending.

Today in Marion Markets

Groceries, Produce, Meats, Grain, Livestock

After a depression in butter prices during the last two months, Marion markets were carrying higher quotations on butter this morning. A two cent gain in price, which is expected to precede other gains, was reported this morning.

Oversupply of butter was given as the reason for the slump during the last few weeks.

Another raise in prices is expected per this week.

Council Gets Petitions To Pave Three Streets

City To Widen State St. and Church St. To Relieve Traffic Congestion Near Postoffice; Service Director To Take Bids for Trucks

Petition to pave three streets, Hane av. from the south line of Mt. Vernon av. to Lark st., King av. from the east line of Hane av. southeast to the corporation line, and Lark st. from the east line of Summit st. to the west line of King av. with water-bound stone, bordered with concrete curb, was referred to the street and alley committee by city council last night.

The petition, presented to city council last night for the first time, bore the signatures of 17 property owners.

* * *

REFER SEWER PETITION TO SOLICITOR

Petition for a sanitary and storm water sewer line on Fairview st. from Main st. to a point 150 feet beyond Bryant st. was referred to the city solicitor after it had been favorably acted upon by the sewer committee. The improvement is being sought by 20 owners of property along the street.

Harding High Students Elected to Honor Group

Twenty-Three Chosen for National Society in Last Selection of Year; Lead in Character, Leadership, Scholarship and Service

Twelve seniors and 11 juniors have been added to the National Honor society chapter at Harding High school. This is the last selection of students for the society that will be made this year.

In the first semester of school, nine seniors were chosen for the society, making a total of 21 seniors elected this year, not including 12 seniors in the present year, who were chosen at the close of the 1929 school year. This will make a grand total of 33 seniors who will graduate in the class of 1930 with membership in a society whose eligibility means that the student is graduating with character, leadership, scholarship and service in the school that has been shown to a marked degree.

Seniors and juniors chosen last week are:

Seniors—Marie Bonecutter, Violet Doll, Dorothy Hite, Thomas Hedges, Juanita Landon, Robert Knauss, Dorothy Maskill, Lowell Haldeman, Laura Wood, William Howison, Lee Kleinmaier and Mary L. Hartsell.

Juniors—Haver Alspach, Verne Babcock, Roma Bader, Helen Cross, Betty Mann, Virginia Shipley, Hayes Newby, Robert Bush, Hildegarde Wanner, Robert Carlisle and Marian Isaly.

Seniors whose names were selected at the end of their junior year in high school are: Eula McNamara, Martha McGee, Jane Lusch, Martha Schweinfurth, Robert Clevenger, Helen Dorsey, Bernita LeMasters, Lowell Coulter, Lowell Goerlich, Jeanette Cox, Arthur Staker and Mary Williams.

Those seniors chosen in the first semester of the present school year are: Robert Atkinson, John Campbell, Catherine Carney, Jack Elliott, Harold Lindsey, Elizabeth McGhee, Thomas Gilbert, James Barker and Edward Rowe.

The names of the students eligible for membership in the society are put before the faculty to select those who measure up to the four requirements of membership in this society. This faculty group includes 10 teachers and K. H. Marshall, principal.

All men who are equals understand each other, no matter what the discrepancy between their fortunes.

Report Mysterious New Star at Lick Observatory

BERKELEY, Cal.—A mysterious star 2,000,000,000,000,000 miles from the earth that contracts and expands at such a speed that it appears to be moving, first toward and then away from this planet at the rate of nine and a half miles a second is the subject of a new report from Lick Observatory.

Diameter of the star is computed at 2,000,000 miles, twice that of the sun, yet it contracts and expands once in every four and a half hours. The star is known as Beta Cephei and the study was made by Dr. H. S. Mendenhall, of the University of California.

British, Minute Men To Re-Enact Famous Battle

CONCORD, Mass.—Re-enactment of historic battle of Concord on April 10, 1775, between the British Red Coats and the Colonial Minute men, will be held here on July 19, as part of this town's celebration in conjunction with celebration of the Tercentenary of the Founding of the Massachusetts Bay Colony. It will be the second such re-enactment in 50 years.

THE SHOCK OF FACING what your figure may become

AVOID THAT FUTURE SHADOW*
By refraining from over-indulgence

Men who would keep that trim, proper form, women who prize the modern figure with its subtle, seductive curves—eat healthfully but not immoderately. Banish excessiveness—eliminate abuses. Be moderate—be moderate in all things, even in smoking. When tempted to excess, when your eyes are bigger than your stomach, reach for a Lucky instead. Coming events cast their shadows before. Avoid that future shadow by avoiding over-indulgence if you would maintain that lithe, youthful figure.

Lucky Strike, the finest Cigarette a man ever smoked, made of the finest tobacco—The Cream of the Crop—"IT'S TOASTED." Everyone knows that heat purifies and so "TOASTING" not only removes impurities but adds to the flavor and improves the taste.

"It's toasted"
Your Throat Protection—against irritation—against cough.

*Be Moderate! : : : Don't jeopardize the modern form by drastic diets, harmful reducing girdles, fake reducing tablets or other quack "anti-fat" remedies condemned by the Medical profession! Millions of dollars each year are wasted on these ridiculous and dangerous nostrums. Be Sensible! Be Moderate! We do not represent that smoking Lucky Strike Cigarettes will bring modern figures or cause the reduction of flesh. We do declare that when tempted to do yourself too well, if you will "Reach for a Lucky" instead, you will thus avoid over-indulgence in things that cause excess weight and, by avoiding over-indulgence, maintain a modern, graceful form.

Objections To Paving Halt Silver St. Plans

Fifteen Property Owners Along West End of Street Protest Improvement at City Council Meeting; C., M. & B. Wants Rails To Patch North Main St. Tracks

Silver st., from the Hocking Valley railroad tracks to its west terminus, came in for a good share of discussion at council meeting last night.

City council heard two propositions which may affect the future of that street, and acted on neither of them, other than unofficially tabling them.

The first came from a group of owners of property along this section of Silver st., headed by Attorney George Geran, who pointed out to council that 15 persons owning a majority of the front footage along this section of the street were not in favor of resurfacing it at present.

This called an unofficial halt to legislation which council had under way to bring about the resurfacing.

Attorney Geran said he represented 15 property owners who owned an aggregate frontage of 1,561 feet of the 2,032 feet abutting on the proposed improvement, excluding school grounds and street intersections. He said the records show that 10 petitioners owning a total of 581 feet, have definitely expressed themselves in favor of resurfacing.

The other proposition was submitted by Mayor L. Don Jones. He notified city council that George Whysall, president of the C., M. & B. Railway Co. had offered to repair the North Main st. track of that line, which has been subject to incessant criticism of council and other officials for years, providing the council would permit him to remove unused track on Silver st. for patch material.

The track on Silver st. lies within the limits of the section proposed to be improved, but which is apparently to be continued in its present condition, following last night's demonstration.

Council members approved the opinion of Councilman John M. Schneider that the rails should not be removed unless the buried ties in the street are also removed.

Mayor Jones stated that his main thought in voicing Whysall's proposition to council was to get the North Main st. tracks fixed.

A motion to adjourn ended discussion on the matter without a decision.

NO DATES SET FOR TRIALS IN COURT

Cases Resulting from Grand Jury Action May Not Be Heard Until April

Trial of Mrs. Garnet Roberts, 280 Bellevue av., charged with manslaughter, probably will not be held until after the first of April, it was intimated in common pleas court today.

Jury cases are scheduled for practically every day until April 3, but Judge George B. Scofield is attempting to find an opening in the program in an attempt to set an earlier date for the trial.

Mrs. Roberts was charged with manslaughter following the death of Martin Van Buren Whittaker, Big Four crossing watchman, who was struck by the defendant's machine at the State st. crossing on Feb. 22.

JURY HEARS SUIT AGAINST C., M. & B.

Court Action Follows Auto Crash on North Main St. Last April

A jury in common pleas court this morning heard the suit of Clarence Brown, of Meeker, against the C., M. & B. Railway Co. and the City of Marion for $588.40 damages arising out of a collision last April.

Brown alleges the condition of North Main st., where the accident occurred, caused the left front tire of his Cadillac sedan to strike a hole which veered the machine into one coming from the opposite direction, causing considerable damage to each machine.

The hole was located, Brown said from the witness stand, at the intersection of a passage switch of the electric railway tracks.

Brown declares in his petition that his machine was damaged to the extent of $300 as the result of the accident. He also seeks $88.40, the amount of a bill for repairs, and costs of the suit.

OFFICER TO TALK ON SIGNAL CORPS

Major F. D. Applin, Ft. Hayes, To Address Local Reserve Officers

Major F. D. Applin, who will be the principal speaker at the dinner meeting of members of the Officers Training school, Wednesday night at the Marion club, will illustrate his talk with slides of actual work done by the signal corps during the World war. He also will discuss the signal corps service and its activities in connection with General Allenby's service in Palestine and in the Russian disaster in 1914.

Major Applin is the signal corps officer of the Fifth corps area, and his talk will be one of the outstanding ones of the series of instructions conducted here under the direction of Lieutenant Edward M. Taylor. The school is open to any National Guard officers in Marion and the surrounding counties. Both Major Applin and Lieutenant Taylor are stationed at Fort Hayes, Columbus.

21 Physicians Listed in King George's Household

By International News Service

LONDON — Twenty-one doctors are listed as members of King George's medical household in the new edition of the "Guide to Their Majesties' Household," issued by the Lord Chamberlain's Department for the use of the staff attached to the English Throne. The list includes surgeon-apothecaries at Buckingham Palace, Windsor Castle, Sandringham, Balmoral Castle, and Holyrood Palace.

Every Building in Ohio

Property owners — individually and collectively — create the conditions which determine the cost of their fire insurance.

To establish Fire Insurance Rates for the various properties in your state in keeping with their individual conditions requires careful measurement and estimate of the fire hazards in practically every commercial building in Ohio.

The Ohio Inspection Bureau

Consider the task of surveying practically every commercial building in this state—with details of construction, occupancy, protection and exposure kept on file.

Even then you have an incomplete idea of the inspection and rating services involved in establishing fire insurance rates.

This is the job the Ohio Inspection Bureau performs with its extensive staff of trained engineers.

Engineering Standards and Laboratory Tests

Engineering standards published by the National Board of Fire Underwriters and researches and tests of the Underwriters' Laboratories pertaining to the strength and usefulness of materials and devices are available to the Ohio Inspection Bureau.

Should an owner desire to improve his property where standard conditions do not already prevail, information showing him how to do it will be supplied free of charge directly through his insurance agent or broker. Constructive work of this character results in reducing hazards.

A Free Service

The Ohio Inspection Bureau is constantly advising property owners and communities as to specifications for new buildings or changes in old ones—the installation of fire protective devices—community fire prevention programs—and all fire safety activities. All of this service is free.

Public use of these and other measures of conservation afforded by Stock Fire Insurance is a principal factor in the constant decline in the average fire insurance rate in this country for more than twenty years.

A New Breakfast Food

with a new delicious crispness

Three Cereals in One—Oatmeal, Corn, Wheat—Perfectly Delicious

A CEREAL that stays crisp to the last spoonful in spite of milk and cream. A cereal entirely different in flavor from any you have ever known. That combines the three supreme grains as no other ready-to-eat cereal does.

It is called Quaker CRACKELS because of it's unusual crispness. It is made by an oven-blending process that crisps together the choicest food elements of wheat, corn and oats.

Thus Quaker CRACKELS has a taste utterly different from other cereals. There's the rich nut-like flavor of oatmeal. The zestful tang of whole wheat. The mellowness of golden corn and the nutrition, too, of all three great energy grains.

And—best of all—because of this special oven blending, CRACKELS retains a zestful, fresh-from-the-oven crispness—no matter how much milk and cream you use—down to the last spoonful. It pours out from the box to your dish, crackling with crispness.

By Quaker Crackels today from your grocer. Your family will delight in this new cereal.

Council Gets Petitions To Pave Three Streets

City To Widen State St. and Church St. To Relieve Traffic Congestion Near Postoffice; Service Director To Take Bids for Trucks

Petition to pave three streets, Hane av. from the south line of Mt. Vernon av. to Lark st., King av. from the east line of Hane av. southeast to the corporation line, and Lark st. from the east line of Summit st. to the west line of King av. with waterbound stone, bordered with concrete curb, was referred to the street and alley committee by city council last night.

The petition, presented to city council last night for the first time, bore the signatures of 17 property owners.

* * *

REFER SEWER PETITION TO SOLICITOR

Petition for a sanitary and storm water sewer line on Fairview st. from Main st. to a point 150 feet beyond Bryant st. was referred to the city solicitor after it had been favorably acted upon by the sewer committee. The improvement is being sought by 20 owners of property along the street.

SET DATE FOR ZONE EXTENSION HEARING

Hearing on the proposed extension of the commercial zone of the city north on Main st. between Fairing and Mark sts. was set for April 14 by council. This action was taken on receipt of a favorable recommendation from the city planning commission.

The extension of the commercial zone is being sought to make way for a "super service station" for automobiles. The hearing will be held at 7:30 o'clock, immediately preceding council meeting on April 14.

* * *

DIRECTOR TO TAKE BIDS FOR TRUCKS

D. J. Harlow, city service director, was authorized to advertise for bids for two two-ton trucks to be used in the service department for street maintenance, by a resolution passed by council.

* * *

CITY TO RELIEVE TRAFFIC CONGESTION

A resolution authorizing Service Director Harlow to proceed with the widening of Church st. between State and Vine sts. and of South State st. between Church st. and the first alley south of Church st. was passed by council last night.

The widened portions, which will be on the south and east sides of the two streets, is expected to relieve congested traffic conditions centering around the post office.

The widened portions will be paved with concrete.

* * *

MAKE TWO CHANGES IN BOND ORDINANCES

Two amending ordinances to make changes in bonding ordinances formerly passed by city council, were passed last night. These new ordinances made changes as required by financial houses, and were purely technical.

They affected bonding ordinances authorizing the issuance and sale of bonds for the property owners' share of the expense in constructing East Center st. paving and sewers, Homer st. sewers, Nye st. and Forest Lawn blvd. sidewalks, Chicago av. paving, Lake and Waples st. paving and Powhattan st. curbs and gutters.

* * *

PROTESTS CONSTRUCTION OF STORM SEWER

Protest against the proposed construction of a storm water sewer in Patterson st. was filed with city council last night by Albert F. Harruff. The communication was in the form of a letter, and gave no reasons for the protest. It was referred to the sewer committee.

Harding High Students Elected to Honor Group

Twenty-Three Chosen for National Society in Last Selection of Year; Lead in Character, Leadership, Scholarship and Service

Twelve seniors and 11 juniors have been added to the National Honor society chapter at Harding High school. This is the last selection of students for the society that will be made this year.

In the first semester of school, nine seniors were chosen for the society, making a total of 21 seniors elected this year, not including 12 seniors in the present year, who were chosen at the close of the 1929 school year. This will make a grand total of 33 seniors who will graduate in the class of 1930 with membership in a society whose eligibility means that the student is graduating with character, leadership, scholarship and service in the school that has been shown to a marked degree.

Seniors and juniors chosen last week are:

Seniors—Marie Honecutter, Violet Doll, Dorothy Hite, Thomas Hedges, Juanita Landon, Robert Knauss, Dorothy Maskill, Lowell Haldeman, Laura Wood, William Howison, Lee Kleinmaier and Mary L. Hartsell.

Juniors—Haver Alspach, Verna Babcock, Roma Bader, Helen Cross, Betty Mann, Virginia Shipley, Hayes Newby, Robert Bush, Hildegarde Wonner, Robert Carlisle and Marian Isaly.

Seniors whose names were selected at the end of their junior year in high school are: Eula McNamara, Martha McGee, Jane Lusch, Martha Schweinfurth, Robert Clevenger, Helen Dorsey, Bernita LeMasters, Lowell Coulter, Lowell Goerlich, Jeanette Cox, Arthur Staker and Mary Williams.

Those seniors chosen in the first semester of the present school year are: Robert Atkinson, John Campbell, Catherine Chener, Jack Elliott, Harold Lindsey, Elizabeth McGhee, Twila Gilbert, James Barker and Edward Russo.

The names of the students eligible for membership in the society are put before the faculty to select those who measure up to the four requirements of membership in this society. This faculty group includes 10 teachers and K. H. Marshall, principal.

All men who are equals understand each other, no matter what the discrepancy between their fortunes.

Report Mysterious New Star at Lick Observatory

BERKELEY, Cal.—A mysterious star 2,000,000,000,000,000 miles from the earth that contracts and expands at such a speed that it appears to be moving, first toward and then away from this planet at the rate of nine and a half miles a second is the subject of a new report from Lick Observatory.

Diameter of the star is computed at 2,000,000 miles, twice that of the sun, yet it contracts and expands once in every four and a half hours. The star is known as Beta Cephei and the study was made by Dr. H. S. Mendenhall, of the University of California.

AVOID THAT FUTURE SHADOW*
By refraining from over-indulgence

Men who would keep that trim, proper form, women who prize the modern figure with its subtle, seductive curves—eat healthfully but not immoderately. Banish excessiveness—eliminate abuses. Be moderate—be moderate in all things, even in smoking. When tempted to excess, when your eyes are bigger than your stomach, reach for a Lucky instead. Coming events cast their shadows before. Avoid that future shadow by avoiding over-indulgence if you would maintain that lithe, youthful figure.

Lucky Strike, the finest Cigarette a man ever smoked, made of the finest tobacco—The Cream of the Crop—"IT'S TOASTED." Everyone knows that heat purifies and so "TOASTING" not only removes impurities but adds to the flavor and improves the taste.

Your Throat Protection—against irritation—against cough.

*Be Moderate! : : : Don't jeopardize the modern form by drastic diets, harmful reducing girdles, fake reducing tablets or other quack "anti-fat" remedies condemned by the Medical profession! Millions of dollars each year are wasted on these ridiculous and dangerous nostrums. Be Sensible! Be Moderate! We do not represent that smoking Lucky Strike Cigarettes will bring modern figures or cause the reduction of flesh. We do declare that when tempted to do yourself too well, if you will "Reach for a Lucky" instead, you will thus avoid over-indulgence in things that cause excess weight and, by avoiding over-indulgence, maintain a modern, graceful form.

MAKE PLANS FOR SCHOLARSHIP MEET

Marion County Students May Participate in Contest at O. S. U.

(Star Bureau)

COLUMBUS, March 11—The second annual Ohio high school district-wide scholarship meet, sponsored by the state department of education, will be held here Friday, May 8, according to E. D. [illegible], supervisor of scholarship contests.

The state has been divided into districts for the meet. Contests will be held at Ohio university, Athens; state university, Columbus; Bowling Green State college, Bowling Green; Kent State college, Kent, and Miami university, Oxford.

Open to All

Any high school in Ohio may participate in the contest. Schools have been classified into four classes, city, county, exempted village, and private, and awards will be made in each class. Each district and state team entered by a school must enter one representative in each of 10 subjects. These pupils will be competing for individual district and state honors at the same time.

The tests in all subjects will be the same for all districts and will be given and graded under standard conditions. The exams will cover about three-fourths of the year's work.

Suitable awards for district teams and individual honors as well as awards for state team and individual honors will be provided. The awards of each district will be presented the day of the contest while state awards will be presented in Columbus on May 10.

Each school will go to the center to which its county has been assigned for the meet. The districts and the counties comprising them are as follows:

Districts Arranged

Bowling Green State college—Allen, Auglaize, Crawford, Defiance, Erie, Fulton, Hancock, Hardin, Henry, Huron, Logan, Lucas, Mercer, Ottawa, Paulding, Putnam, Sandusky, Seneca, Van Wert, Williams, Wood, and Wyandot.

Five Michigan Convicts Attempt To Flee Prison

By The Associated Press

JACKSON, Mich., March 11—An attempt by five men to scale the front wall of the Michigan State prison by using a 20-foot improvised pipe ladder resulted in the getaway of one man and the capture of the other four at 3 o'clock yesterday morning.

Frank Shinn, Detroit, slipped down the ladder, raced across the prison yard and is believed to have dived into a tunnel beneath the plant of the American Fork and Hoe Co. nearby. A search is being made for him by a score of guards.

Hummel Will Attempt To Gain State Nomination

By the Associated Press

CINCINNATI, O., March 11—Edward J. Hummel, Cincinnati, today announced his candidacy for the secretary of state nomination on the Republican ticket.

Hummel advocates permanent automobile registration, the color and numbers remaining the same each year. He also listed on his platform a pledge to aid in repeal of laws which he said has resulted in destruction of constitutional rights, invasion of the home, bribery and corruption.

DIES SUDDENLY

Justice Edward Terry Sanford of the United States Supreme Court, who died suddenly at his home in Washington. The fact that he was ill became generally known only a short time before word of his death was received. Justice Sanford was born in Knoxville, Tenn., and was 61 years old. He was appointed to the supreme bench by President Harding in 1923.

New Pen for Mayor

A BUNCH of feathers from a huge Alaskan eagle were recently received here by George Robertson, Windsor st., from Alex Vreatt, Fort Wrangler, Alaska, assistant United States marshal in that district.

Vreatt is a friend of Robertson who has spent some time in Alaska.

Two of the huge feathers have been presented to Mayor L. Hon Jones, who plans to have them cut into quill pens.

Claws of the Alaskan eagle were also sent with the feathers.

Time Brings Changes

ADVERTISING, like all other arts, changes.

A few years ago, the popular method of quoting prices was for example, "$15 up." Up went the word which obscured the price which a man usually paid for an article, although he would not investigate unless the low price was quoted.

Now "up" has been dethroned, and its antonym has been declared king of advertising. For now the signs are "$1 down."

Another wrinkle burst forth in a local furniture store window last week. This particular window proclaimed the merits of a certain make of mattress. In this window, a prominent sign read "30 nights free trial." Instead of the usual "30 days trial."

Diet Does It

JUST to show how nourishment agrees with mice as well as the human race, the two white rats in the windows of the Crosthwait Hardware Co. over the weekend, were good examples.

The poor little rat the size one as the plump rat, was fed on meats and sugary foods. In six weeks he had gained only three-quarters of an ounce and was stricken with a cold that promises to end in a big funeral for ratdom.

The other, also six weeks old, but grown to full-size, was fed on milk and fruits and vegetables along with the meat, and he gained four ounces. Just a big frolicking rat!

The little rat is becoming irritable, according to Miss Esther Press, who is sponsoring this show in nutrition as a part of her work as nutritionist in the public schools. These various food values have the same influence on school children, properly and improperly fed.

Two of the children assigned to watch over the white animals, felt sorry for them last week and made them beds.

COLD DOESN'T INTERFERE WITH LECTURER

Speaking tonight in a warm theatre and tomorrow in a damp, chilly hall. Traveling every day in drafty trains, out in all sorts of weather. Professional men and women catch colds, but they know how to throw them off!

Anyone can knock the worst cold—without "doping." Pape's Cold Compound does it—every time. It's in tablet form; no trouble to carry or to take. You stop sneezing. You stop coughing. Eyes cease to water; your nose doesn't run. All druggists, 35c.

104 PERSONS PERISH IN THEATER BLAZE

Japanese Naval Men and Families Burn to Death; 100 Injured

By the Associated Press

SEOUL, Korea, March 10—One hundred and four persons were killed and more than 100 injured yesterday in a fire which broke out at a motion picture show at the Chinkai naval base in southern Korea. Most of the victims were Japanese naval men and their wives and children.

The show was being held in a warehouse at the naval base in observance of the twenty-fifth anniversary of the capture by the Japanese of Mukden in the Russo-Japanese war. The anniversary was celebrated throughout the empire today.

The film, which ignited and caused the fire, was a patriotic reproduction of scenes in the Russo-Japanese conflict. About 600 persons were in the building when the film burst into flames and fired the structure.

Most of those who perished were trapped in the building. The blaze broke out at 3 o'clock in the afternoon and ranged for two hours.

The majority of the victims were small children. Flames from the warehouse for a time threatened to spread to a nearby ammunition magazine. The bluejacket fire fighters barely prevented this.

LOCAL MEN DISCUSS CREATION OF WORK

Representatives of State Organizations Employment Committee

"Create a few days' work" was the appeal made at the initial meeting of a special committee on employment in the court house yesterday afternoon. Various methods were urged to stimulate work.

Fred B. Scherff, representing the industrial relations department of the state, which has taken up the work outlined by Gov. Myers Y. Cooper, urged representatives of more than a dozen state-wide organizations having local groups in this county to do all possible to increase the number of jobs available.

To Meet Again

These representatives are expected to carry the message to their groups, and to report at a meeting of the special committee to be held next week.

As a means of doing this, Scherff urged the members of the committee to stimulate in each group the idea of getting under way immediately any work which might be planned for late months.

Rather than to lay off employes, industries will be urged to lessen the hours of work each day, or the number of days each week. Use of local labor wherever possible will be advocated.

Morgan Burke was named chairman of the Marion county committee on employment. He represented the Ohio State council of retail merchants at the meeting. E. A. Williams, representing the Ohio State Grange, was named vice chairman, and Ralph K. Ruppart, representing the Ohio State Federation of Labor, was elected secretary. Others attending the meeting were H. B. Walker, of the Ohio Chamber of Commerce; Thomas Grossman, of the Ohio Farm Bureau Federation; F. E. Dix, of the Ohio Newspaper association, and Fred B. Scherff, representing the Ohio Manufacturers association.

Any COLD

That cold may lead to something serious, if neglected. The time to do something for it is now. Don't wait until it develops into bronchitis. Take two or three tablets of Bayer Aspirin as soon as you feel a cold coming on. Or as soon as possible after it starts. Bayer Aspirin will head off or relieve the aching and feverish feeling—will stop the headache. And if your throat is affected, dissolve two or three tablets in a quarter-glassful of warm water, and gargle. This quickly soothes a sore throat and reduces inflammation and infection. Read proven directions for neuralgia, for rheumatism and other aches and pains. Genuine Bayer Aspirin is harmless to the heart.

Miss Alice Beatty Tells How Cuticura Healed Pimples.

"I was bothered with pimples that were all over my face and arms. When they first started they were small, but later became large and red. When I scratched them they festered, causing eruptions that scaled over. The trouble lasted about three months.

"I tried other remedies but they did not do any good. I read an advertisement for Cuticura Soap and Ointment and sent for a free sample. I purchased more, and after using three cakes of Cuticura Soap and three boxes of Cuticura Ointment I was completely healed." (Signed) Miss Alice Beatty, R. 2, Rochester, Mich., June 6, 1929.

Bugle Sounds Call

... sounded. The soldiers and ... on the long capitol steps and ... plaza snapped to attention. A ... rolling ruffle made footing treacherous on the steps.

The American flag, removed in the rotunda, again draped the casket.

The inspiring strains of "Onward Christian Soldiers" was played slowly by the Marine band.

Headed by the Army band playing Chopin's funeral march the cortege wended down the north road of Capitol Hill shortly after noon.

At the base of the hill the cortege swung into Pennsylvania av.

The crowds that had watched the body as it passed on the way to the capitol had thickened despite the rain that had changed from a rain mist to a steady drizzle.

The dirge played by one band died away but as if from an echo another took up the strains.

The marines, picked men, swung along in front and next came a detachment of bluejackets, white capped, and immediately behind them was the casket. A guard of infantry, marines and sailors brought up the rear.

In the church, where Mr. Taft worshipped for years, his pew near the front was filled with flowers. The notes of the organ could be heard by those on the outside.

From the church belfry, came the rolling of the bell more than a century old. It has been rung upon the death of all presidents since 1822.

The leaden skies that had spattered rain throughout most of the morning had darkened by the time the funeral procession approached the church. A drizzle had turned into a heavy rain.

For the last scenes army orders had summoned the full pomp of military funeral pageantry, horse, foot and artillery, ranked in battalions as befitted the high place the dead man once held as commander-in-chief, and flanking columns of marines and bluejackets to bespeak his similar place over all the nation's sea forces.

Lead Cortege

All these were mustered to lead the way to a peaceful tree-girt Virginia hillside, its clustered branches and undergrowth already budding with the life of a new spring, the scene of the last farewell.

The burial plot had been chosen by the family of the dead president. From that slope, Washington looks hazy and beautiful in the distance beyond the wide river. And on this quiet nook all the wealth of honor for the dead that marked the day centered.

It was by Dr. Pierce that the last spoken word of the simple committal service was given. That, and his reading of Tennyson's "Crossing the Bar" at the grave side, came last before the ranked guns, shrouded in the trees of the hillside above, were wakened to shout their clamorous word of farewell.

Amid those rocking, resounding blasts, an army bugler was stationed to catch up the quaking echoes of the old graveyard and lull them again in the plaintive notes of "taps," the soldier's farewell.

And to those dying notes, soft in the evening air, a nation left the message that "finis" had been written to the book of life for Taft of Ohio, president, chief justice and plain American citizen, who had well earned the "peace that passeth understanding."

CLINIC REGISTRATON TO START WEDNESDAY

I. O. O. F. Baby Festival Headquarters To Be Opened

Reports on the progress of plans for the I. O. O. F. Baby Festival and public health clinic to be held the latter part of this month, were made at the meeting of members of Kosciusko Lodge, No. 38, I. O. O. F., last night.

Arrangements also were made to initiate a large class of candidates March 24. One application was balloted on.

Headquarters for registration in the baby clinic will be maintained at 125 West Center st., in the building formerly occupied by the City Loan Co., and will be opened at 10 o'clock Wednesday morning.

All children from the age of three months to five years are eligible to the benefits of the clinic, providing they are residents of the city. Children need not be taken to the headquarters for registration, as only the application of one or both parents is necessary, according to plans. No charge will be made for registration.

Opening Wednesday, the headquarters will be open each day during the week from 10 o'clock in the morning until 6 o'clock in the evening. The work will be in charge of William Lee.

at once went down the shaft, 200 feet down, to telephone workers, but found communication destroyed.

The Steubenville fire department made a mad 25-mile dash and began pumping water from a nearby stream. The hose was run back to the center of the fire just in time to save the weakened timbers from allowing fire and shale to slide in and block the trapped men behind the walls of flames. About 70 men were threatened, the rest having been able to escape or brought out before the flames cut them off.

For a time it seemed that the fire would be the victor, but five hours later it was checked sufficiently that rescuers decided to run the gauntlet. They crept through, wearing gas masks, and brought out 70 men, exhausted and gasping for air. It was believed the trapped men and lived because fresh air had constantly been pumped through an overcast chute.

In Nick of Time

The rescue was made barely in time, for less than three hours later the flames again gained headway and Fire Chief Edward Green of Steubenville said he feared it would be impossible to save the mine from destruction. Firemen were kept at their posts all night.

Rescue squads from the United States Bureau of Mines at Pittsburgh and the Ohio Bureau of Mines, Columbus, arrived in time to help bring out the survivors.

One of the heroes of the night was John Knapp, who runs a garage at Wolf Run. He insisted on going down after his father, George, 60, who was among the trapped men, and found him fighting through the flames.

Relatives of the miners and thousands of spectators from surrounding towns gathered at the mine entrance to watch the rescue work, but mine authorities and Steubenville police maintained order.

DECISION ON CHILD'S FORTUNE DUE TODAY

Court To Rule Whether Akron Babe Gets $40,000 or Nothing

AKRON, O., March 11—A decision expected to be handed down in common pleas court here today will decide whether a two-year-old golden-haired fellow will be an heir to a $40,000 estate or just a penniless little tot.

Testimony in the law suit over the $40,000 estate of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Long, Barberton, victims of the Cleveland Clinic disaster, was concluded yesterday and today final arguments were scheduled to be presented to Judge L. S. Pardee.

"Exhibit A" in the case has been the two-year-old boy whom the court is called upon to decide whether he is the natural or adopted son of the Longs. The court has also to decide whether Mr. or Mrs. Long died first in the clinic disaster.

Lorvita Rush, a 20-year-old Barberton girl, has claimed "Exhibit A" as her son, declaring that Mrs. Long adopted the little fellow when but a day old. Witnesses for the Longs, however, have testified that the boy was born to Mrs. Long, Feb. 5, 1928.

Should the court decide that the tot is the natural son of the Longs the $10,000 estate will be his. But if the court decides otherwise, the boy will be penniless and the estate will go either to the heirs of Long or those of his wife.

In the latter case, the court is faced with the task of deciding whether Long or his wife died first in the clinic disaster.

Income Tax Reduction.

How greatly the federal income tax burden has been reduced in recent years must have been impressed upon the taxpayer, particularly the taxpayer of modest income who is the head of a family, in making out his return this year for the calendar year, 1929. In truth, the federal tax no longer is a burden to the man of modest income, as incomes are considered in a city the size of our own.

For the calendar year, 1923, the rate was four per cent. on an income of $4,000 or less after permissable deductions had been made from the taxpayer's gross income. At that time the head of a family was allowed a personal exemption of $2,000 and $100 for each person, other than husband or wife, under eighteen years of age, or incapable of self-support, supported by the taxpayer. The next year, 1924, the tax rate was cut to two per cent. and the personal exemption of the head of a family raised to $2,500. The rate for the following year was reduced to one-and-a-half per cent. and the exemption of the head of a family raised to $3,500. Those figures held in 1926, 1927 and 1928, but the tax rate for 1929 is but one-half of one per cent., with the same exemptions as last stated, and the deductions authorized by law.

By way of illustration, let us assume that the head of a family in which there are two children under eighteen has an income from various sources of $3,000. He would have a personal exemption of $1,500. Let us say his taxes, other than special assessments are $200 and that other deductions such as amounts paid out for charities, dividends on home state corporations and interest on government bonds sum up to $1,000. Such a taxpayer would pay at the rate of one-half per cent. on the difference between $3,000 and $5,500, which is $2,500, the amount of the tax being $12.50.

Thus it may be seen that the man of modest income is contributing very slightly to the cost of federal government through the operation of the income tax, which is absolutely in line with the present-day plan of putting the great burden of cost of government on wealth.

However, state and municipal governments are not emulating the federal government in reducing the tax burden. To the contrary, their aim seems to be to increase it. In any event, they are taxing tangibles and intangibles wherever found and, not content with that, are adding special taxes of all kinds whenever opportunity offers, with the result that the saving in taxes effected by the federal government is far more than wiped out by the lesser political divisions with the result that the tax burden being borne by the average citizen is greater than ever before in our history.

G. O. P. CLUB VOTES FOR DRY LAW REPEAL

Stand Taken in New York After Spirited 4-Hour Session

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, March 11—The na[tional] Republican club today was on record in favor of repeal of the eighteenth amendment.

After a four-hour session marked by occasional clashes between wets and drys of the membership, the club, by a vote of 1,055 to 955, adopted a resolution which held the eighteenth amendment "so disruptive of our federal system that it is destructive of the rights of the states," and urged representatives of the Republican party in both houses of congress to support and vote for its repeal "in order to restore the American form of government."

The club has a membership of 2,000, about half of whom live in New York state.

Prior to the resolution was defeated when Richard W. Lawrence, president of the club, reversed an earlier ruling admitting wet proxy votes under protest. The motion was then defeated by a vote of 479 to 360.

The president reversed his decision when warned by Martin Saxe, one of the wet leaders, that exclusion of the wet proxies would break up the club. A formal protest against the admission of the wet proxies was filed by Andrew B. Humphrey, leader of the dry forces.

Two years ago a similar resolution was defeated.

COMPLETE PLANS FOR W. C. T. U. MEET

County Institute To Be Held in Prospect Street M. E. Church

Plans have been completed for the institute sponsored by members of the Marion County Woman's Christian Temperance union to be held Thursday afternoon and evening at the Prospect Street M. E. church. Speakers will include Mrs. Nellie M. Hill, Elyria, state lecturer for the organization, John H. Clark, this city, and Rupert K. Beetham, Cadiz, prohibition commissioner of Ohio.

Following the afternoon session a basket supper will be served with speakers and members of the Marion County Ministerial association and their wives as guests of honor.

The session Thursday night will include a program of music by members of the Park Street A. M. E. church choir. The public is invited to attend both the afternoon and evening sessions.

"HONEYMOON" TO LAST 10 YEARS

Felix Barbee, 22, and Catherine Schweltzer, 20, were married in jail at Cincinnati just before Barbee was taken to prison to serve 10 years for robbery. "If he was worth marrying before, he's worth marrying now," said the bride. Her mother and sister are shown with the couple in the cell.

Beauty Not Needed

Not Required for Chorus Girl, Professional Trainer Says

By The Associated Press

LOS ANGELES—A chorus girl needn't be beautiful.

So, at least, says Fanchon Wolff, who trains hundreds yearly.

"If they have straight figures, know how to walk properly, and have average good looks, they can, through cosmetics, be beautiful enough," she says.

In her choruses she seldom has a dancer weighing more than 112 pounds and none more than 25 years old.

Fanchon and her brother were set on the way to be big time producers by an effort to brighten their own modest dance act.

Dancing in San Francisco, they thought a sheet revue would put more speed into their stuff. The revue was developed and with it Fanchon's flair for creation of dance numbers, settings and costumes.

Nowadays they supply vaudeville circuits and movie concerns with choruses and shows, but Fanchon still spends her mornings training new girls.

Each of her groups travels with a chaperone, she explains, and studies curcuit under direction of the board of education. If they don't keep up to standard they lose their jobs.

EXPERTS WORK ON FRENCH NAVY TERMS

Americans Act as Observers as Europeans Consider Problem

By The Associated Press

LONDON, March 11—British and French experts attached to the five-power naval conference today minutely examined French demands for a navy of 724,000 tons by the end of 1936.

American experts acted only as observers. The situation with reference to the informal demand of Aristide Briand, foreign minister, for a pact guaranteeing French security in return for a slash in the 724,000 ton navy figure was obscure.

It did not appear that the experts would finish their examination of the figures before the end of the week or later. The British hope that eventually the demand may be slashed to a total of about 550,000 tons.

Importance of such a slash can best be visualized when it is considered that Italy demands parity with France, that Great Britain demands corresponding greater power than France, and that the Anglo-American figures agreed upon the Hoover-MacDonald Rapidan conferences will have to be greatly increased unless the French come down.

A cold day, a small breakfast and a long ride will make any hot dog taste good.

MARKSMAN FAILS

Boy in Hospital After Backyard William Tell Act

By The Associated Press

LA PORTE, Ind., March 11—A backyard William Tell act with a few modern trimmings ended yesterday not in applause, but in shrieks and groans.

Leland Day, 15, had seen his chum, Harry Manderville, 14, knock can after can off a fence post with his small calibre rifle. Young Manderville's average had so far been perfect, so Leland placed a can on top of his head and shouted:

Harry fired, and his chum slumped to the ground, the bullet lodged in his head. He is in a hospital.

SMALLPOX FAILS TO HALT GANDHI PLANS

Intends To Launch India's Campaign Despite Epidemic in Camp

By The Associated Press

LONDON, March 11—Although 22 persons in Mahatma Gandhi's college of devotees have been stricken with smallpox, and three are dead, Gandhi himself has not been deterred from his intention of beginning tomorrow the march to Dalapura which will inaugurate his civil disobedience campaign.

The correspondent of the London Express in a dispatch to his paper compared it to an army headquarters in war time with messengers coming and going and thousands of letters pouring in by every mail.

Gandhi himself was observing his weekly day of silence, but in its course visited the isolation tents where the smallpox patients were confined. He observed them, but conveyed his felicitations without speaking a word.

The correspondent was led by Gandhi to his sleeping quarters on the banks of the Sabaramati river, where the Nationalist leader squatted down in Oriental fashion, and never breaking his silence, wrote a message with his fountain pen on a slip of brown paper.

"I am sorry that the vice regal reply to my letter was cold and unresponsive," he said, "but I have certain conviction that my cause is just and that however much I am misunderstood, every Englishman will in the near future admit that I was their true and wise friend."
